Troutt eyes county vacancy for man 'sympathetic' to city

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

The mayor of Romulus is lobbying to fill a vacancy on the Wayne County Board of Commissioners with a man "sympathetic to Romulus."

Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt has been meeting with Taylor Mayor S. Richard Marshall, to discuss the man they will support to succeed former Wayne County Commissioner John N. Sabo (D-26th District), who was elected Taylor's city clerk, and resigned his county post.

"We need a man who's sympathetic to Romulus because I intend to start going to the county about the expansion of Detroit Metropolitan Airport," Troutt said. "It sure would help us if someone who understood the problems we faced because of the airport was on the board of commissioners."

"IDEALLY, I'd like to see a Romulus man take the post. But we have to be realistic. Taylor does have a greater number of voters in the district Sabo vacated, so almost out of courtesy, we'd have to choose someone from that city."

Troutt said the leading Taylor candidate for the post is Edward West, the holder of several appointive governmental jobs in Taylor for the past few years.

'I intend to start going to the county about airport expansion.'

"If he were chosen, I'd be satisfied," Troutt said. "But we have some pretty good candidates in Romulus including former Wayne County Commissioner Edward Bizek Sr."

Troutt said that Romulus political leader, Robert Plank, is interested in the post, and he has been discussed by both Troutt and Marshall.

Troutt said either of the two Romulus residents would meet his requirements for the office.

Another name mentioned for the post, according to Troutt, is Huron Township Supervisor George Moore.

All of Romulus and Huron are included in the district, along with Flat Rock and a good portion of western Taylor.

However, a good portion of the population lies in Taylor. "OF COURSE, the final decision for the commissioner doesn't lie with the mayors of Romulus and Taylor, but with the commission," Troutt said. "They'll be voting on the vacancy, but I'm hoping I can find some old friends down there who will listen to me and hold up the vote until both Marshall and I can recommend someone for the position."

Jaycees seeking Jr. Miss

Senior girls from Romulus High School are being sought for the Romulus "Junior Miss" contest to be held Nov. 24 at the school.

Contestants will be judged on their poise and appearance, scholastic achievement and physical fitness in the contest. Jo Lynn Goholey, the reigning "Junior Miss," will crown this year's winner.

The winner of Romulus' contest will go to the regional pageant in Westland on Dec. 8. If she is numbered among the 11 finalists, she will compete in the state pageant held in Pontiac in January. The winner of Michigan's "Junior Miss" contest will go to Mobile, Ala. to seek the America's "Junior Miss" title.

Michigan's current "Junior Miss" is Westland's Marie Neu.

The winner of the Romulus contest will receive a four-year tuition paid scholarship to Eastern Michigan University and various other gifts.

Leonard Folmar, Romulus City Clerk and a Jaycee member, will be the contest chairman.

Troutt was chairman of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors prior to the time it became the board of commissioners.

Many of the former county supervisors have been elected commissioners in the county's legislative body.

Troutt said he will be seeking compensation from the county for land lost in Romulus to airport expansion.

"WE'RE TAKING an inventory of the water and sewer lines absorbed by the airport as well as evaluating the amount of tap-in debts left unpaid when the airport absorbed homes and businesses in its expansion," Troutt said. "I think the city should be repaid for those expenses."

Troutt also said the county will have to play a major role in improving the city's roads near the proposed Detroit Diesel Expansion on Cogswell Road between Van Born and Ecorse roads.

"The city's going to move immediately to provide better transportation in the area of the proposed expansion," he said. "And I'm hoping the county will move as swiftly to provide better roads."

He was out of a job

Election timing perfect for treasurer

Romulus' general election couldn't have been timed any better for John B. Lewkowicz, the city's new treasurer.

Three days after he was elected Romulus' second city treasurer, Lewkowicz' former employer—the North American International Timken Division—closed.

"It was perfect timing," chuckled the treasurer. "The doors closed on North American International on Nov. 9 and I took my new job the following Monday."

THE CLOSING of the Detroit-based manufacturing business marked the end of more than 40 years of operations. "They had about 6,000 people working there at the end of World War II," Lewkowicz recalled. "But at the time it was closed, only 750 people were working in the machining shop, the assembly division and the forge."

"They had decided about a year ago to close the operation down, because it would have cost millions of dollars to bring it up to today's standards as a manufacturing plant, and the company was unwilling to place that great an investment

FORMER BUILDING head, Clayton W. Meldrum, has taken a job with the Romulus School District and, former DPW head, William Pritula, still is looking for a job.

Both Meldrum and Pritula were fired from their jobs for their alleged participation in Troutt's campaign for election. Troutt said he will be looking for people to head up a water and sewer maintenance division, a road maintenance division, and a city property maintenance division he plans for the DPW.

In our opinion

The President must remain in top office

It is critical to the deteriorating national condition that President Nixon remain in office to restore the purpose and meaning of his mandate in the election of 1972.

His resignation or impeachment would be a final shock wave threatening to the very survival of the national life, the coup de grace to a distressed and struggling nation.

The President, however personally must generate the movement back toward political and economic health.

HE MUST TAKE the mandatory first step of making full disclosure of the Watergate tapes and other documents bearing on that and related scandals in order to be once again the respected and credible leader of the nation.

No moral and reasonable man can condone the deeds of Watergate.

Government at every level has been distracted and at times paralyzed by the tawdry dramas of scandals which have resulted in prison terms for some, the social destruction of others and disgrace for all of those involved.

The fires of national discontent have been fed by the cries of scandal and the East Coast media who hounded President Johnson out of office and now

Sewer construction gets Huron approval

By HENRY CANTIN
Of The Roman Staff

Huron Township's proposed $16 million sewer construction project unanimously has received the approval of the township board of trustees.

Construction of the sewer project is to begin as soon as a funding request authorized by the trustees on Nov. 13 to Wayne County is approved by county officials.

Officials of the township said Monday that the sewer construction will be financed by a county-backed bond issue that will be paid off from Huron's general operating fund budget without boosting local millage.

THE SEWER program will serve areas of the township where residents favored the sewer proposal in questionnaires sent to them by the township.

Huron Township Clerk Mrs. Mary Lou Carey said the present township millage plus added revenues from new customers from the sewer expansion will pay off the bond issue.

A study by township officials to determine the priority of proposed areas for sewer construction was conducted last July.

Areas currently involved in "Phase II" of the township's planned sewer expansion program include the unincorporated Village of Willow; West Road between Merriman and M<sup>1</sup> belt roads; Dugan Drive, and a portion of Hannan near Hannan Road Elementary School.

MRS. CAREY said that the township is putting in the sewers for existing residents and added: "But because the lines go across some vacant land, it will open up some areas for future residential development."

In 1968, the Michigan Water Resources Commission won a lawsuit against the township which compelled the township to start constructing sewers because waste from septic tanks was polluting the Huron River.

The county now prohibits septic tanks in 90 per cent of the township, Mrs. Carey said. The project is a "stepping stone" to further expansion of sewers in the township in that it sets up basic drainage routes in some areas, Mrs. Carey said.

Construction of the $1.6 million sewer project if approved by the county will begin in the spring and take four to six months to complete, she added.

Carriers collect

The carrier who delivers this newspaper to your door, will be calling to collect 50 cents for the month of November. This will include payment for the issue of November 28th. If your paper was started late in the month, he will collect a smaller amount.

Your carriers will appreciate prompt payment. If you have any suggestions on how he can improve his service to you, he invites your suggestions.

City treasurer calling for supply inventory

"If I'm going to be responsible for the city's assets, I'd better know what they are," said John B. Lewkowicz, Romulus' new city treasurer.

And, with that statement,

Lewkowicz called for a complete inventory of the city's holdings.

"It's not that I anticipate anything being taken, or think that something's missing, Lewkowicz added. "But I want to make sure that everything is where it should be, and that everything is accounted for at the time of my office taking.

The accounting firm of Adelson, Weitz, Witus and Company, have been hired to do the inventory.

"The check will include a detailing of all the property of the city, from pencils to the amounts of money in the various banking accounts," the treasurer said. "When it's complete, we'll have better information on how to reorder things."

At the same time the inventory is being taken, the city's auditing firm—Post, Smythe, Lutz and Ziel—is completing the city's annual audit.

Lewkowicz said he did not know when either of the checks will be complete, but hopes that work will end soon.

"We've got a lot to accomplish now, and the sooner we get started the better," he added.

State cuts taxes

Lottery celebrates anniversary

The "father of the Michigan Lottery" hasn't won a penny since his proposal became law a year ago, but he still thinks the lottery is a good idea.

State Sen. John E. McCauley (D-Wyandotte) said the anniversary of the first drawing is Saturday.

"We will know exactly how much the lottery has meant to Michigan financially in a few days," McCauley said. "We do know that the deposits in the lottery fund have far exceeded estimates that were made a year ago."

MC CAULEY SAID that

lottery proceeds made it possible for Michigan to cut taxes by $155 million for fiscal year 1973-74.

"Of course, the lottery wasn't entirely responsible for the tax slash, but without it we would have been talking about peanuts," he added.

The senator believes that some of the more controversial features of his proposal have turned out to be the main reasons for success.

First, the decision to place full responsibility on the shoulders of the lottery commissioner.

"There were two factors here," he explained. "The governor knew that he had to appoint the best man he could find. That man knew that he operated in a goldfish bowl. It was his operation, and success or failure rested primarily in his hands."

"GUS HARRISON is a man who knows how to step up to his responsibilities, and has done an admirable job."

Second, the decision not to earmark funds.

"There has been a lot of pressure to earmark, and perhaps this was the toughest part of the bill to explain," McCauley added. "Once people understood that more than 50 per cent of the proceeds went into school funding, and this in turn allowed the legislature to do a better job of picking up school costs and take some of the pressure off the property tax, much of the agitation for earmarking disappeared."

"Then, when it was pointed out that the proceeds helped pay the costs of many other government services while giving the governor and the legislature some freedom to keep total costs down, mail advocating putting lottery money into this fund or that practically vanished."

THIRD, THE decision to pay 45 per cent of the gross in prizes.

"Making sure that a substantial percentage of the gross went into prizes was the best sales builder in the bill," McCauley said. "The ticket buyer knows that almost half the money spent on tickets finds its way back to the purchaser in the form of prizes. Maybe we could have shown a greater percentage of profit, but we probably wouldn't have sold near as many tickets."

Fourth, the decision not to put the lottery under one of the 19 principal state departments.

"It's sometimes a technical decision that determines whether or not a proposal succeeds," McCauley added. "Now that we have had a year's experience with the lottery, I think it's fair to say that one of the main reasons for the lottery's success is that Harrison is answerable only to the governor, the legislature, and the people. He does not have to deal with a department director, who has other things to worry about."

Special ed center in Ecorse can be used by area residents

A Special Education Materials Center has been established at 27670 W. Outer Dr., Ecorse for use by area residents.

The Special Education Instructional Materials Center staff will coordinate in-service education for local school districts receiving new and timely materials for the improvement of instruction.

The new Special Education Instructional Materials Center will serve as a link among local school districts and the State Special Education Instructional Materials Center.

Teachers as well as parents are invited to contact the center.

To meet immediate needs, the center is offering special education teachers assistance with the production of specific classroom materials. The following materials services are available:

- a multiple-copy service;
- examination specimens of mediated teacher-child use materials;
- information for classroom activities, media, materials, and games;
- abstracted special education catalogs to assist teachers with reference material and selection of materials.

While acquisition of center materials is underway, the new facility can supply, as a direct service to teachers, instructional materials on a loan basis through the Great Lakes Regional Instructional Materials Center in Lansing. The telephone number for the center is 338-0260.

Postmasters expecting stamp-by-mail increase

An increase in the number of stamps-by-mail orders is anticipated by local postmasters as the Christmas mail season approaches.

"A lot of people are going to prefer ordering stamps by mail to going to the post office to purchase stamps, Belleville Postmaster Ray J. O'Neil said. "Most orders come from persons whose work schedules preclude trips to the post office, shut-ins, the infirm and small businesses."

Postal customers may order:

A roll of 100 eight-cent stamps for $8; a sheet of 100 eight-cent stamps for $8; two books of eight-cent stamps for $4; one book of eleven one-cent and two books of eight-cent stamps for $5; 50 stamped eight-cent envelopes (6 3/4 inch long) for $5; and 50 stamped eight-cent envelopes (10 inches long) for $5.

A 40 cent fee is charged to defray the cost of postage, internal processing of checks and other costs associated with this service.

Of Help Center

Social worker completes staff

The staff of the Romulus Help and Job Placement Center has been completed with the addition of a social worker, Naomi Pinchuk, 26. The holder of a master's degree in social work, Miss Pinchuk started work "to give a listening ear to those who need it" two weeks ago.

She is skilled in group, individual and family therapy through her former job as a social worker for the State of Kansas in its welfare department.

ALTHOUGH SHE has not handled drug-related social problems in her previous employment, Miss Pinchuk believes she can handle the problems she may encounter in the Romulus Help Center. "We aren't here to deal strictly with drug related problems," she said. "In fact, I've already been busy with two persons - helping them with non-drug related problems in the community. In addition, I don't believe a person with a drug-related problem suffers any different emotional difficulties than any other person I've dealt with. "The only difference between my work here and the work in the past is that many of the subjects I may deal with here resorted to drugs to help them overcome their emotional problems, rather than some other type of socially acceptable, yet harmful, means of coping with them."

SHE BELIEVES that drug problems "are much the kind any social worker will encounter today" whether it be in the area of abuse of hard drugs or the abuse of alcohol.

"Beyond the physical involvement of drugs or alcohol, the drug abuser has the same emotional needs as other people with social problems," she said. "The hurts and the harms are the same, regardless of whether the abuser has an emotional problem without abusing drugs, or resorts to their abuse because of their problem."

Miss Pinchuk said she likes the atmosphere of the Romulus Help Center.

"It's unlike other institutions," she added. "Here, I'm free to handle people's problems through whatever means I consider necessary."

"FOR EXAMPLE, if a problem cannot be handled through the regular 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. working day, I'm free to handle it in whatever means is necessary."

The President must remain in top office

THE CHARGES THAT the President either approved or had knowledge of criminal acts of those in his shadow have not been proved. There are insinuations of guilt because he has not made full disclosure of the tapes and documents that would prove him innocent.

Still, his accusers would be the first to demand their day in court.

There have been preachments that impeachment or resignation would elevate the national mood, that the Presidency is separate from the President and that the immolation of Richard M. Nixon in a pyre of hate would serve some patriotic purpose.

There is a sickness abroad in the land - germinated in great measure by the Nixon Administration scandals - that cannot be cured by inflicting further shame.

THE NATION IS gripped by an energy crisis which endangers the economy and threatens to diminish or drastically alter the vital public services Americans have for so long taken for granted.

The Russian supply effort to the Arabs in the war with the Israelis was a dramatic indication that the political dilemma in the United States appears as a sign of weakness and disorder to the world of nations.

America through history has been a nation of crises. It has reacted constructively and with a unity of purpose during the World Wars, the Depression of the 1930s and to other dangers and in pursuit of national goals. Now, in truth, America is divided and in peril.

It is a time to call off the impeachment fox hunt in Washington and end the debilitating preoccupation with disasters and rumors of disasters, a time to focus on the greater perils.

FULL DISCLOSURE is the only means of survival for Nixon and for the Republican Party in 1974 and 1976 and perhaps even for the nation.

And it should be made to the people of the United States who elected Nixon in 1972 and who now are demanding a response.

The Republican Party must be preserved as a philosophical and political institution. The faith of the people in its government must be restored. The negative distractions of the past must be cleared away before solutions can be found to the greater confluence of crises flowing across the land.

Over the past week, the President has started re-establishing the Presidency and his own credibility before the American people. He has stood up before them and stated his position with candor.

Let us give Richard M. Nixon, a final opportunity for the sake of his party, but most of all, for the nation.

Troutt develops Romulus 'rebirth' plan

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of the Roman Staff

In office less than 10 days, newly elected Mayor Terry L. Troutt says his 10-point plan for the "rebirth of Romulus" is in "full operation."

He said the two most important points on that program are recreation and road maintenance.

"We'll get started on both those programs right away," he said. "I promised more city parks for the residents of Romulus, and intend to keep that promise."

"I INTEND to get together a program for regular maintenance and upgrading of roads in the city through the same method used by the state."

The other points in the program call for a new city master plan; the establishment of a complaint department; stiffer ordinance enforcement; the establishment of a senior citizens center; improved services to business and industry; the establishment of a working relationship with the head of Detroit Metropolitan Airport; the increase in federal funding for city programs, and the establishment of a master drainage plan.

Troutt said he expects little difficulty in obtaining council consent for his programs, since four of his six candidates were elected to the council.

"I have some people up there who I can at least talk with," Troutt said. "Together, we can get things rolling."

TROUTT - ENDORSED candidates include Beverly McAnnaly, Joan A. Lee, Lng Coleman and Jack H. Trumble.

Two candidates backed by Carmichael, William M. Oakley and Fred Junior Block, also were elected. The other councilman is James C. Stewart, who ran as an independent.

Block, Oakley and Stewart are incumbent councilmen, each serving their second term on the council.

"I don't see a man there who I can't sit down and talk with now," Troutt said. "I'm pretty happy with the council, although I would have liked to see all my people get elected."

ONE CARMICHAEL administration hold-over, Romulus City Clerk Leonard Folmar, may be in on the city's planning process in the future.

Folmar defeated Bingamen in a close contest last Tuesday.

"I've talked with him," Troutt said. "And I don't see any problems in working with him."

"I'm confident he'll be able to run an efficient operation in the clerk's office."

TREASURER John Lewkowicz, a Troutt-backed candidate, will also be included in the administrative planning.

"We've got the makings of a good administration team," Troutt said. "Now we have to go out and hire some qualified personnel to complete it."

The first administrator to be hired by Troutt may be an industrial coordinator.

"We need one desperately," he said. He added that present salaries may be increased, with the council's permission, to entice more qualified personnel to the city.

"YOU CAN'T PAY a man $10,000 and $12,000 a year, as was done in the past, and expect an outstanding job."

Troutt said. "I'm willing to pay the top dollar for the top personnel, and I'm confident the council will agree."

Troutt indicated he is looking in business and industry as well as in other city governments, to find people.

"I've already had some people contacting me, and I'll be contacting some myself in the near future, to get the job done."

Will it save gasoline...cause accidents?

Nixon's 50 m.p.h. limit poses problems

LANSING — If the government really expects people to slow down their driving to save gasoline, it is going to have to do more than change the speed laws.

That is the consensus of the traffic engineers in the Michigan Highway Department — the men who study state highways and decide what speed limits should be imposed where.

President Nixon has proposed a nationwide 50 mile per hour speed limit as part of an effort to conserve energy. But the traffic engineers say there is a vast difference between changing a speed limit and securing obedience of that lower limit.

THE PROBLEM is based on the fact surveys by the department have shown changing the posted speed limit on a stretch of road has little effect on the speed of vehicles using that road. In fact, speed limits generally are set after a survey to find out what the average speed is of drivers using the road.

"The traffic engineering philosophy is that motorists will seek the proper speed for conditions present," says Maury Wittveen, a traffic engineer in the department. "We measure the speed of vehicles using the road and set the speed limit accordingly."

"THE MAJORITY of drivers are safe and prudent. We faster speed than they would feel comfortable at otherwise.

"I IMAGINE THERE would be more compliance on the rural two lane roads where there is a 65 mile per hour speed limit in the day time and 55 at night," Wittveen says. "The freeway is another matter."

'If people believe the crisis exists and believe they can save fuel, they may do it...I doubt people would do it.'

select a speed at which 85 per cent of the people travel at or below. This is the maximum. We then expect to have 15 per cent violators of the speed limit. That is a level police agencies can enforce.

If you have 60 per cent of the drivers violating the speed limit, you can't enforce it."

The problem would be most acute on freeways, where multi-lanes and no cross traffic makes drivers feel safer at a

The trick then is to convince drivers that there really is a gas shortage and they really can help by driving slower.

"If people believe the crisis exists and believe they can save fuel, they may do it," he says. "In lieu of an emergency and in lieu of a reason to slow down, I doubt people would do it."

THIS DOUBT that all drivers would obey lower speed limits is one reason some officials, including Gov. William G.

By BOB BERG
Enterprise-Roman Lansing Bureau Chief

Milliken, are approaching the lower speed limit with caution. If a substantial number of drivers did not obey the lower speed limit, the interstates could become much more dangerous because of the greater variance in the speed of the stream of traffic.

"The people who want to lower speeds say that we would have fewer accidents by lowering them," Wittveen says. "If we get a high compliance with the lower speed limit it would mean less accidents. But if there is not high compliance it would mean more accidents."

"I'M SURE YOU'VE been driving on the interstate and have come upon a car driving 45 or so. You can't judge speed as well on the interstate and you can come upon the car much quicker than you realize. The lower speed limit might greatly increase the number of times that happened."

The question then is not merely whether a lower speed limit would save gasoline. The question is whether it would save gas while at the same time being enforceable and not causing a lot of accidents.

We must conserve...or else

The energy shortage is a 'living threat'

For those of us in Western Wayne County, in the heartland of Middle America, the talk of an energy shortage confronting the nation is difficult to accept.

Yet, during the past week, we've reported cut-backs in all forms of energy, local units of government setting new guidelines to conserve fuel and energy — including energy saving tips on how to better conserve heating fuel in our homes.

When President Richard Nixon signed into law the Alaskan pipeline bill last Friday, it cleared the path for work to begin on America's richest known oil field...but the flow of Alaskan oil is still five years away.

While the threat of shortages in oil and all other forms of life-dependent energy materials have been reported for several years — only during the Middle East war did the shock set in around the world.

Closer to home, area residents are asking: "What can I do as a responsible citizen during the energy crisis?" We would urge family discussions on some of the energy waste that we allow in our homes.

And that means having two television sets going at the same time, radios blaring away — and just the normal abuse of costly energy.

When utility firms and gasoline stations provide tips on how to conserve energy, that in itself should prove the energy crisis is for real.

We also urge that our schools foster energy crisis discussions. Sometimes young people show a greater concern over the "future America" that awaits them than those who merely repeat: "I remember how it was during World War II."

Even today, we in the printing business are plagued with newsprint shortages...and find ourselves printing newspapers on a day-to-day basis — and searching for new recycling processes for newsprint.

We can sit back and blame someone else for creating the shortages — or we can do something about it. We can start by conserving the use of energy during our nation's crisis.

Voice of the people

Zion offers Thanksgiving prayer

To the Editor: Zion Missionary Church wants to be one of the first organizations to thank those serving the city of Belleville for their service to us and to the community. Special appreciation goes to the Chamber of Commerce, "The Belleville Enterprise," to the two retiring councilmen, and the Mayor Royce Smith and his staff of workers.

At a Thanksgiving Dinner, Nov. 14, members and friends of the church selected names of those currently in office and who serve the city. The object was to give opportunity to personalize our thanks in a meaningful way.

Pastor David Brown, new pastor to Zion, says, "the reason for this note of appreciation is to try to fulfill the Scriptural command of I Thessalonians 5:18, 'In everything give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you.'"

At this Thanksgiving Season, we want to thank Mayor Smith and those that work with him for their pledges to integrity and to better our community. We want to thank the "Enterprise" for the free publicity we receive for our public events and special services. And at a time when many have lost confidence in national government, we want to support our local government as they look after our needs here in Belleville to encourage the community spirit that honors the Lord Jesus Christ. Happy Thanksgiving!

David A. Brown
Pastor

Questions fuel oil shipments

To the Editor: Today I received a letter from Congressman William D. Ford stating that despite the growing fuel shortage, America will export in excess of 53 million gallons this year.

Congressman Ford also said exports of gasoline and propane are also substantial and growing.

This is to be figured from the U.S. government of today. They gave our wheat to the Russians who in turn put it on the world market. This little bit of business forced the price of bread, meat and poultry to rise.

I just wonder if all these so-called shortages are nothing more than cruel hoaxes pulled on the American people by Democrats and Republicans for the sole purpose to federalize the total economy.

Judy Smith
Belleville

Editor's Note—In a Nov. 9 dated statement to the press, the Department of Interior branded reports of large quantities of fuel oil being shipped overseas as "rumors." The department said "we have exported a quantity of distillates equal approximately to two-tenths of one percent of the U.S. total demand. This is a drop in the proverbial bucket..."

High Court jurist has credentials

Fitzgerald came with a 'blue ribbon' tag

Enterprise-Roman Lansing Bureau

LANSING — John Fitzgerald scored the highest mark on Gov. William G. Milliken's checklist and became the newest member of the Michigan Supreme Court.

Judicial appointments are among the choicest of political plums which a governor can dispense and there are always a number of lawyers who have been active politically enough to feel they have earned a spot on the bench. But the appointment had to be more than a political one.

Milliken has asked the legislature to remove the Supreme Court and Appeals Court from the elective category and instead give the governor the power to appoint judges. When Justice Thomas E. Brennan resigned, it put Milliken in the spot of having to make a blue ribbon appointment involving a person with solid credentials as well as the necessary political background.

the solid credentials of work on the bench to meet the experience requirement. He is a respected judge and his name has come up in the past in speculation about who the Republicans might run for the high court.

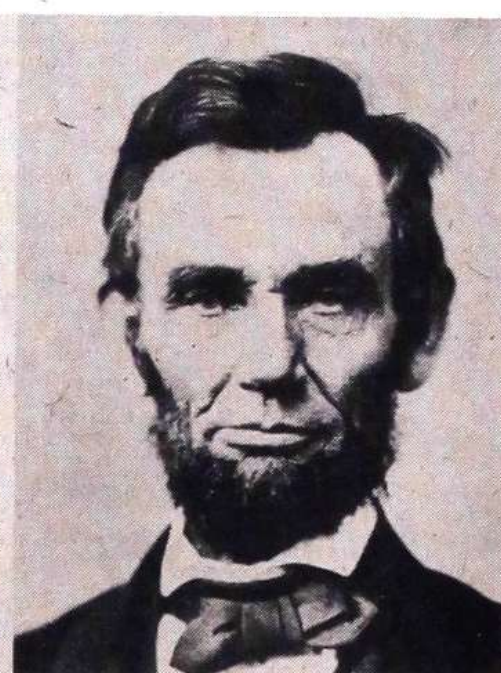

In addition, Fitzgerald's Republican credentials are impeccable. His father was Frank D. Fitzgerald, who served two terms as Secretary of State and two terms as governor of Michigan as a Republican in the 1930's. His grandfather was a Republican State Representative.

Fitzgerald was an active Republican before being elected to the court, serving three terms in the State Senate. Thus, there could be no grumbling over his political pedigree in GOP ranks by those who complain from time to time that Milliken gives too many appointments to Democrats.

Fitzgerald does not have to be confirmed by the Senate as new judges would have to be under the governor's proposal to the legislature. But there is no doubt the appointment would whisk through the upper chamber if that were necessary.

The above three photographs of Abraham Lincoln reflect the pain of war...and the age it brings to a President.

Lincoln spoke for mankind

At Gettysburg...110 years ago

By MITCH KEHETIAN
Enterprise-Roman Editor

The speech lasted no more than two minutes — and the speaker chose noble, simple words to express his thoughts on that day of Nov. 19, 1863.

The site was the dedication of a cemetery to honor the living and dead who fought at the Battle of Gettysburg...110 years ago.

And the speaker was Abraham Lincoln, the 16th president of the United States — who three years before his Homeric address at Gettysburg, called the nation "a house divided...half slave and half free."

SEVERAL YEARS AGO I visited for the first time the quaint town of Gettysburg, Pa. in an attempt to better understand the battle that turned the tide in favor of the Union armies.

The Battle of Gettysburg lasted for three days — and it spelled doom for the Confederacy. The armies of Generals George G. Meade and Robert E. Lee met accidentally — the result of a shoot-out between a Union cavalry unit and one of Lee's brigades.

And for yours truly, the true grasp of Lincoln's address came to light that day I walked the paths of history at Gettysburg. As the son of immigrant parents who came to this country only 60 years ago, that day on Round Top Hill, I captured the meaning and understanding that Americanism merely represents one's desire to be free and equal.

AND EVEN TODAY, 110 years later, we remain a house divided.

What kind of a speech would Lincoln give if he were living today — after reviewing mankind's so-called progress in the last 110 years?

Would he be questioned because of his firmness to wage a war to save the Union? Would the call for impeachment ring across the nation? Would anyone listen to a two-minute speech that focuses on the proposition that all men are created equal?

I FOR ONE believe America would listen. We would listen because we only hear of the badness of America — seldom do we hear about the goodness of this land and what it has to offer to society.

According to the journalists of 110 years ago, the principal speaker at Gettysburg was Edward Everett — who delivered a two-hour address.

And we are told the audience did not appreciate Lincoln's brief remarks. Some damned the President. "He didn't show the respect we expected from a President. This was no speech...he hardly spoke," they muttered.

But the newspapers of that era sensed the meaning of Lincoln's address — and recognized the meaning of the "inspired nobility" of that two minute speech.

South...some side-by-side...you ask: "How could fellow Americans have come to such extremes to set out to destroy each other?"

Yet we continue to do so, in more subtle ways. Even now with the Watergate scandal darkening our history, there are those seizing upon the tragedy to heap despair upon our free system of government.

When the first shot was fired at Gettysburg on July 1, 1863 — and the last two days later — nearly 40,000 casualties had been suffered by the two armies.

As I glanced down the rocky slopes from Round Top Hill, I recalled my history and the famous charge of General George E. Pickett's troops.

IN THE EARLY HOURS of the Battle of Gettysburg, Lee's Confederates broke through Union lines at "bloody angle" on the crest of Cemetery Ridge — but strong Union resistance cracked the advance. That day the earth turned red from spilled blood.

I also visited the location from whence Lincoln addressed the citizens of Gettysburg; and in spite of the horror inflicted upon this nation by that war of states — it settled several questions vital to the salvation of that "house divided." Even then the critics scorned Lincoln for igniting the war.

WHILE HISTORIANS have never reached any consensus agreement about the conditions that triggered this nation's Civil War on April 12, 1861 at Fort Sumpter — some believe that the slavery issue was the basic cause.

And some agreed that the war was the result of economic rivalry between the industrial North and the agricultural South. To search for one single factor is a historical impossibility — but no one disagrees that slavery was not the basic issue that pitted brother against brother.

When Union Gen. Ulysses S. Grant and Confederate Gen. Lee met on April 9, 1865 at Appomattox Court House in Virginia to sign a peace pact — they ended a war that took more American lives than any other war in our history...including the wars of recent times.

AND THE FOUR YEARS of bloodshed left a heritage of grief and bitterness which, tragically, remains in part even on this 110th anniversary of Lincoln's epic address at Gettysburg.

In that Civil War, the North lost 364,511 men, the South lost 258,000 — and in total dead and wounded the staggering figure of nearly one million was established by all sides.

And through the years we've read about the battles at Bull Run, Vicksburg, Shiloh, Fort Henry, Fredericksburg, Sherman's March, Chickamauga — the day the earth turned red at Gettysburg.

On this the 110th anniversary of Lincoln's address at Gettysburg, I would hope that the present fate of the Union will return to normalcy with respect for the office of the President.

AND AT THE SAME time, a rededication in the White House to lead this nation ahead to 1976 when we observe the 200th anniversary of this bastion of freedom and democracy.

As President Lincoln said: "...that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

A SHORT TIME LATER, Everett, the principal speaker at the dedication, wrote to Lincoln: "I should be glad if I could flatter myself that I came as near to the central idea of the occasion in two hours as you did in two minutes."

Gettysburg itself is a shrine, but it was Lincoln's two minute address of simple, humble words that made the world remember that day in American history.

If for reasons you've never visited Gettysburg, then next summer it's a must for the family. Agreed that today commercialism has crept into the scene, but a visit to Gettysburg is more than a vacation. It's like feeling the fabric of America and the fibers that saved the Union.

Four new members are named to board of Belvil Hospital

The Board of Directors of the Belvil Community Hospital Association, Inc., have elected four new members to the association's corporate board.

The association, a non-profit (non-stock) organization, owns and operates Belvil Community Hospital, a 71-bed medical facility, located at 105 Main St., Belleville.

The election of the new corporate board members was announced by Hospital Administrator William E. Hinchey. They are Norman Atchinson, James Henry, Chum Stockwell and Neil Banks.

ATCHINSON IS THE owner of the Atchinson Ford Sales, Inc., 9800 Belleville Rd., Belleville. He resides at 7765

Denton Rd., Belleville and has been an area resident since 1961.

He and his wife, Merle, are the parents of one son and one daughter. He is a member of the Belleville Kiwanis Club, past president of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club, member of the Plymouth Masonic Lodge and of the Plymouth Shriners Club. He enjoys golf.

Banks, assistant cashier and branch manager of the Belleville branch of the National Bank of Detroit (NBD), resides at 18113 Evergreen Rd., Detroit.

He and his wife, Marcia, are the parents of two sons. Banks has been with the NBD for 27 years and has been with the Belleville branch since May.

HE IS PAST president of the Inkster Rotary Club, present member of the Belleville Rotary Club and past vice-president and member of the Eastern Seal Society of Western Wayne County.

He also is past member of the Economic Development Committee of Inkster and has been involved with the Boy Scouts for 25 years. He is the area's businessmen chairman for the United Foundation.

Stockwell, a direct distributor of Amway Home Products Co., resides at 7133 Belleville Rd., Belleville. Stockwell and his wife, Helen, are the parents of five children. His hobbies are fishing and camping.

He was born in Michigan and has lived in the Belleville community since 1941. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus of Wayne, Charter Member of the Lions Club of Belleville and an international appointee to the Public Relations Committee of Lions International.

STOCKWELL'S main interest and hobby is "helping people to be successful."

Dr. James Henry, chiropractic, with offices at 152 Main St., Belleville, resides at 6850 Sheldon Rd., Belleville.

Henry and his wife, Linda, are the parents of two sons. He was born in Wayne. He is a past member of the Kiwanis and a member of the St. John's Episcopal Church in Westland. His hobbies are sailing and outdoor sports.

The association's corporate board sets policy for the hospital's 12-man board of directors.

House nearly overrides governor's hunt veto

The Michigan House of Representatives recently came within 10 votes of overriding a governor's veto, something the Michigan legislature has not done in 22 years.

The issue was a veto of a bill to ban the hunting of antlerless deer (does and fawn) this year in the Upper Peninsula.

The Senate grouped together the necessary two-thirds vote to override the veto, but when the matter was brought before the House the vote was 64 to 40. A two-thirds vote in the house is 74 votes.

THE BILL was a reaction to a decision by the Natural Resources Commission to allow the killing of 3,350 antlerless deer this year in areas of the Upper Peninsula.

"I was among those who voted to override the veto," State Rep. Edward Mahalak said. "I do not see this as a slap at the governor or the Natural Resources Commission. To me, it is plainly an issue of whether an overwhelming majority of people should be heard. It has been my observation that the great majority does not want the killing of does and fawn.

In other action, the House passed bills to end a somewhat confusing situation involving voter residency requirements in Michigan.

Under present law, a person must reside in the state for 45 days to be eligible to vote in state and local elections. However, that same person need live in the state just 30 days to vote in federal elections, or for president and congressmen.

THE LEGISLATION passed by the House would not only bring state law into line with the federal law and end a certain amount of confusion, but would reduce election costs by eliminating the need for election clerks to segregate ballots for electors.

A companion bill changes the deadline for registration for school elections to the 30th day before the election. The present deadline is the fifth Friday before the election. This bill also would bring state law into conformity with federal statutes.

The two measures are now under consideration in the Senate.

Another bill winning house approval would correct a problem caused by extended teacher strikes.

BECAUSE OF THE strikes, a number of school districts were closed down on the fourth Friday of September, the annual date of a student enrollment count necessary for school aid payments. Those districts therefore faced the loss of vital school aid funds.

The bill passed by the House and sent to the senate allows school districts alternate enrollment dates so that they can preserve their state aid eligibility. The alternates are the fourth Friday after the actual start of classes or the second Friday in November. Until the count is taken, the school district would be eligible for state aid based on its previous year's count.

One bill was soundly defeated in the house. It was a Senate-passed measure which would have increased fishing license fees. The license fee for residents and the special trout and salmon fee would have been raised from $3 to $5, for non-residents from $6.

In the armed services

A Belleville man who is a member of the intelligence division of the U.S. Navy has graduated from the Defense Language Institute, Washington, D.C. He is Richard Wiegand, 25.

Wiegand received a degree in Russian language. He is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Wiegand of 22074 Fenster Rd., Belleville. His father, William, resides on Sumpter Road, Belleville.

Following his graduation from the Defense Language Institute, Wiegand was assigned to San Angelo Air Force Base, San Angelo, Texas for a 13-week undisclosed course.

He is a 1966 graduate of Belleville High School and has served in Vietnam, Korea, Bermuda and in the United States.

Marine Lance Cpl. Charles S. Dishart, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo D. Dishart of 28763 Second St., Romulus, has reported for duty at the Marine Corps Base at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Army Private First Class Charles Marz, 20, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Marz, 21869 Rust Rd., New Boston, participated with other American and Allied Troops in Exercise Reforger V in Germany.

Flour mill on club's agenda

By Pearl Morris
WHI-1187

Thirty-three Romulus Senior Citizens from Club No. 1 enjoyed an outing last Thursday to Jiffy Mix Flour Mills at Chelsea where they were served cake and coffee before the tour. At the end of the tour each was given two complimentary boxes of the new muffin mixes. The group then proceeded to the Chelsea Methodist Home where they were led on a grand tour by a spry 90-year-old, Mrs. Ziegler. They also visited the Home's ceramic and gift shop and later had dinner at 'Schumm's'. Mrs. Marie DeBusseyer was the group's driver for the day.

PLANS ARE going ahead for a Christmas Bazaar which will be held Sunday, December 2, from 12 noon to 5 p.m. at St. Aloysius School Hall. The public is invited to attend and also enjoy a chicken and stuffed cabbage dinner which will be prepared and served by Josephine Molenda and her committee during the same hours. The Altar Society Ladies, who have been working for months on Christmas decorations and handsewn items, will be working Wednesday, November 28, starting at 6:30 p.m., at the school hall, making cookies to be served at the dinner. This year's general chairman is Violet Pawlowski and Sue Massingill is her co-chairman.

PATRICIA RENKE of Los Angeles, California left last Saturday after spending a week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Renke Sr. of Grant Road, and other relatives here. The week before that the Renkes had as their guest Father Power (brother of movie actor Tyrone Power) of Santa Anna, California, who also visited relatives in Detroit.

*FRED W. HAY of Huron River Drive left last Tuesday to open the Morris-Hay cabin at the Aero-Pine Club at Hillman for the 1973 deer hunting season. Joining him there later in the week were Fred Hay Jr. from Western Michigan University and a daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Herrmann and two children of Newport. None of the aforementioned were fortunate enough to down bucks but at the cabin next door on the same club grounds, a former Romulusite, Gerald Osburn of Allen Park, shot a fourpointer on Saturday.

THE ROMULUS SENIOR CITIZENS CLUB NO. 1 is planning a Christmas Bazaar for December 3, 4, and 5 at the Romulus City Hall Community Room. Hours will be 9 a.m. to 12 noon each day.

Members are asked to please bring-in their bazaar articles as soon as possible to Mrs. Pritula.

M.E. TALLY of Menton Street and his son, Ray Talley of Herman Street, were on hand for the opening day of deer hunting in the East Tawas area.

MRS. FREDERICK Hay, Miss Pearl Morris, both of Huron River Drive, Mrs. John Lynch and son, William, of Wyandotte and Gerald Diepenhorst Jr. of Northline Road, and guest, Michele, attended the production of "Rip Van Winkle" Thursday evening at Madonna College, Livonia. Participating in the play as one of the dwarves was Mrs. Hay's daughter, Carla, who is a freshman. On Saturday Carla's sister, Mrs. Virgil (Pearl) Varner and son, Darius, of Haggerty Road attended another performance of the story.

SATURDAY EVENING a silver wedding anniversary party was given for Mr. and Mrs. John Wilhite of Hollywood Street. Twenty-seven friends and neighbors joined in the celebration which was planned as a surprise for the couple by friends, Mrs. Jerry Canajo and Mrs. Bernie Ballantine.

ON SATURDAY, November 17, Brownie Troop No. 33 of Romulus Elementary School made a trip to the planetarium at Children's Museum in Detroit and also toured the Detroit Historical Museum. Participating in the outing were Beth Centek, Kim Clark, Cheryl Milatz, Dawn Pobalette, Bonnie Pressler, Gwen Redmond, Pam, Redmond, and Mary and Margaret Savage. The girls were accompanied by two Senior Girl Scouts, Jocelyn Ozga and Bonnie Wiemer, and adult drivers, Mrs. Jean Savage, leader, and Mrs. Pobalette.

Hawaiian honeymoon follows fall ceremony

An eight-day honeymoon in the Hawaiian Islands followed the October 27 marriage of Patricia Pych and Daryl Bauman, both of Belleville. The couple repeated their nuptial vows before the Rev. Raymond S. Skoney in a five o'clock ceremony attended by some 300 relatives and friends.

For the double ring rite, the altar was appointed with bouquets of white pomp mums and gladiolas. Music played by Dorothy Roberts of Milan included 'We've Only Just Begun' and 'Theme from Love Story.'

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pych of 14837 Haggerty Road and Mr. and Mrs. Desmond Bauman of 40253 Alden Drive are parents of the young couple.

FOR HER wedding day, Pat selected a gown of Chantilly lace designed with a high neckline and long sleeves which were puffed at the shoulder. The bouffant skirt, comprised of tiers of lace featured a 'V' shaped insert of tulle in the front and a chapel train adding back interest.

A Camelot headpiece secured her elbow-length veil and cascading snow song pink roses, white mums, baby's breath and ivy completed her bridal finery.

Carole Michaelski of Belleville as maid of honor wore a toe-touching gown fashioned with a velvet burgundy bodice and pink chiffon skirt. Her shoulder-length veil was held by a matching velvet bow and she carried a nosegay of pink mums and baby's breath.

The quintet of bridesmaids in vari-colored frocks like the honor maid's were Cheryl Wagner in mint green; Paula Bauman and Nina Bauman, the bridegroom's sisters, in hot pink and purple, respectively; Debbie Pych, the bride's sister, wearing blue; and the junior attendant, Kelly Bauman, the bridegroom's niece, in moss green.

DRESSED AS A miniature of the bride, Shannon Blanchard carried a white basket filled with pink mums and baby's breath. The four-year old daughter of the Chris Blanchards of Plymouth, she is a cousin of the bride.

Best man was Jerry Rocho of Belleville. The corps of ushers included John Pych, the bride's brother, Ed Pych of Wayne, the bride's uncle; Wayne Worley of Wayne, Ken Breithaupt of Belleville; Tracy Sharp of Mantion; and Terry Wilburn and Jim Harris, both of Belleville.

Garden Club travels to Frankenmuth

The wintry day of November 5 found members of the Huron Valley Garden Club motoring to Frankenmuth for their monthly meeting. Seventeen members and guests met at Zehnders for a chicken luncheon. Before dining, many took a leisurely stroll through the interesting shops at the Inn.

Following lunch, the group inspected with delight, the many Christmas wonders at Bronners' headquarters for the holiday season. Animated displays, Christmas decorations of all sizes and shapes, as well as the artificial trees, lights, and ornaments were on display. While going from shop to shop, the group was 'greeted' by giant snow flakes which further reiterated the approaching season.

About Michigan

Michigan's land area is larger than Greece and nearly five times the size of Belgium.

Two thousand Michigan firms engage in world trade.

Stand anywhere in Michigan and you are within 85 miles of one of the Great Lakes.

Carrying out the duties of ringbearer was the bride's five-year old nephew, Michael Pych, son of the Joe Pychs of Wayne.

At the reception which followed at UAW Local 735, Ypsilanti, the 550 guests from Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Texas and cities in Michigan were greeted by Mrs. Pych in a floor-length gown of turquoise chiffon. The bridegroom's mother chose to wear a gown of green lace and velvet. Both were presented with crescent corsages of carnations and roses.

FOR TRAVELING, the new Mrs. Bauman changed to a pink pant suit. Since their return, the newlyweds have taken up residence at 10990 Belleville Road, Belleville.

Both 1970 graduates of Belleville High School, the bride is employed in the IBM Department of Kelsey-Hayes and her husband works as parts manager for Heining Chevrolet, Belleville.

Belleville couple wed at P.N.A. Hall

Alice L. Roberts of 44151 Bemis Road, and Frank P. Montie of 44085 Bemis Road, Belleville, exchanged wedding vows Saturday, November 17, at the P.N.A. Hall. The Rev. Ralph Jackson came from Detroit to preside at the five o'clock nuptials.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Roberts of Asheville, North Carolina, the bride was given in marriage by her son, Fred Randall of Belleville.

'The Wedding March' was played on guitars by the Wild Country Band who also played a favorite song of the couple, "All I Have to Offer You Is Me."

MRS. ROBERTS chose for her wedding a white gown of chiffon over satin, a lace veil and bouquet of red roses and white gardenias.

Her attendants included Mrs. Elaine Buckner of Belleville in pale blue chiffon over crepe, the matron of honor; Mrs. Gail Randall, the bride's daughter-in-law, in lilac; Mrs. Robbie Montie of Belleville in wine and Margie Montie of Zephyrhills, Florida, in blue, both daughters-in-law of the bridegroom; and Mrs. Barbara Summers of Belleville in blue.

The bridegroom asked Mayor Royce Smith of Belleville to serve as best man. Ushers were Herbert Buckner of Belleville and Frank Montie II of Belleville, the bridegroom's son; Floyd Montie, another son from Zephyrhills, Florida; and Kenneth Summers of Belleville.

The reception which followed at the P.N.A. Hall was attended by some 350 relatives and friends.

The newlyweds are planning their honeymoon for December when they will leave to spend the winter at their home in Fort Myers, Florida.

At Home Arts

Candy cane covers are November project

Elaine Guterrez opened the November meeting of the Home Arts Club Monday evening at North Junior High School. Roll call was answered by 20 members with three guests, Bea Raymond, Marge Hosman and Barb Brendtke being introduced. Program chairman Kathy Miller outlined the plans for the annual Christmas party, which will be held December 10 at the Bemis Road home of the president, Mrs. Guterrez. The party is for members only and dues must have been before that date. In lieu of the regular gift exchange, the group is to bring any type of edible Christmas goodie. Following the business session, the group received instructions and materials for fashioning little felt horse heads which will be used to cover candy canes for Christmas tree hangings. Hostesses, serving dessert and beverages, were Wilma Tator, Shar Tator, Aldine Potter and Muriel Wolfe.

The Bing & Grondahl Christmas plate
a cherished tradition for 78 years.

Each year, the Bing & Grondahl Christmas plate is eagerly awaited by collectors all over the world. The 1973 plate was designed by the famous Danish artist Henry Thelander. Its charming, nostalgic homecoming scene is exquisitely painted in matchless Copenhagen blue on porcelain, under glaze. Each plate is an authentic work of art; its beauty will never dim. A joy to collect and one of the most memorable presents you can give.

Greca-Gruden vows read at St. Aloysius'

St. Aloysius Catholic Church in Romulus was the setting October 26 for the candlelight ceremony which united Marsha Elizabeth Gruden and Thomas M. Greca in holy matrimony. The six o'clock nuptials were read by the Rev. George Kowalski in the sanctuary adorned with four urns of white mums and lighted candles.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was gowned in a creation of ivory Skinner satin embellished with heavy ivory lace. Styling details included a high stand-up collar which opened to tiny covered buttons on the empire bodice, full bishop sleeves ending in deep cuffs, and a full skirt terminating in a chapel train.

A Camelot cap of seed pearls and rhinestones held the bride's fingertip veil of silk illusion which was banded in lace and a bouquet of cascading gold cymbidium orchids and stephanotis completed her ensemble.

THE BRIDE is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gruden of 39699 Huron River Drive, Romulus. The bridegroom's parents, both of Romulus, are Mrs. Rosalie Stringfield of Wick Road and Albert Greca of Wabash Street.

Maid of honor, Sharon Sliving of Milan, wore a peach-colored crepe gown accented with a bib effect in rust velvet, the velvet being repeated on the cuffs of the long sleeves and again at the waistline. Her soft-brimmed picture hat was in matching peach encircled with rust velvet ribbon and the basket she held contained an arrangement of fall-colored mums.

Wearing identical mango-colored outfits were the two bridesmaids, Michelle Garduno of Waltz and Mary Kottke of Belleville.

The bridegroom asked his brother, Bill, to serve as best man. Ushers were Robert Sherer of Roseville and Greg Conrad of Romulus.

For the happy occasion, Mrs. Gruden wore a bone-colored peau de soie formal gown with a lace companion coat and gold accessories. The bridegroom's mother donned a teal chiffon gown and black accessories. Both were presented with corsages of cymbidium orchids.

AMONG THE 400 guests who gathered at the P.N.A. Hall for the reception was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Winifred Howard of Romulus.

The newly wed Grecas spent a week honeymooning in the South and then took up residence on Huron River Drive, Romulus.

Marsha was graduated from Belleville High School in 1970 and later attended Cleary College. Her new husband graduated from Romulus High, attended Washtenaw Community College and is now employed at AMC General in Wayne.

Wittman-Griffith wedding planned

MISS WITTMAN

And cold weather sports

Winter in state means snow

SLED DOG RACING—An exciting sport of teamwork and "love" sled dog racing is a sport enjoyed by the racers and the watchers.

The Michigan Tourist Council says even the dogs enjoy the sport.

Winter in Michigan means snow and lots of it. In the upper peninsula, it means an average of 180 inches at Sault Ste. Marie to 250 inches in the Copper Country and 170 inches in the top third of the lower peninsula.

Now when you're "blessed" with that much snow in a season, you shovel it, plow it, blow it, occasionally curse it, but most of all — in Michigan — you ski and snowmobile on it.

Michigan has more than 70 well developed winter sports areas that offer downhill skiers challenges and thrills equal to his, or her, skill.

THERE ARE chair lifts, poma lifts, rope tows, T-bars and J-bars to whisk you to the top of the slopes and expert instructors to teach you how to schuss, traverse, stem christie and snowplow down with the best of them.

The world's highest artificial ski jump at Pine Mountain, near Iron Mountain, is training ground for past, present and future Olympic stars. Top international ski talent is attracted to Copper Peak, north of Ironwood, for the annual Ski Flying meet.

Distinct from ski jumping, the sport is called "flying" because for a breathless moment the skier actually is airborne, his back and arms providing lift as the wings of a bird. Copper Peak, incidentally, is the only ski flying jump in the western hemisphere.

For those less daring but somewhat adventurous,

CROSS COUNTRY SKIING—One of Michigan's hottest "hot season" sports, cross country skiing, provides total family enjoyment. It offers freedom and it's easy to learn and inexpensive, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Michigan has miles and miles of cross country trails through city, county and state parks and state forests.

MANY OF THE ski resorts offer cross country instruction and rental equipment and have both marked and open trails around their areas.

Ranch Rudolf, near Traverse City, and Birchwood Farms Lodge, near Harbor Springs, are resorts exclusively for cross country skiers and snowmobilers complete with instruction, rental equipment and accommodations.

Cross country (or ski touring) is not new. As a matter of fact, it came to Michigan in the 1800s with the arrival of Finnish, Norwegian and Swedish immigrants to the upper peninsula.

SKI TOURING is sort of a cross between walking and ice skating, a series of kick-line steps and smooth glides. It's great exercise and a sport the whole family can enjoy together.

Children as young as two and three years old are able to master cross country skiing almost as fast as their parents and grandparents.

Equipment is quite different from that used in downhill or Alpine skiing. Touring skis are long and slender and light in weight. Boots are light, soft and comfortable and poles (usually bamboo) have an entirely different flex pattern. And, you can equip yourself for the trail (skis, boots and poles) for under $100. As for clothing, you probably have warm, lightweight, wind-resistant articles in your closet that will do the job nicely.

FROM THE first snowfall of the season until the last inch melts in spring, cross country skiers can "do their thing." As little as two or three inches of snow on the trails is enough for an exhilarating cross country trek.

The "zinger" in the sport is the proper waxing of the skis for specific snow conditions. The right wax, and wax treatment, will allow skis to slide smoothly on the level and downhill, but stick to the snow on an uphill climb.

Then there's snowmobiling, another fast-growing winter family sport. In addition to 160 plus snowmobiling areas, a number of ski resorts have marked trails for snowmobilers. From December through March, snowmobile races and safaris dominate the state's calendar of events.

The Thunder Bay 250 Race at Alpena, TC-250 at Traverse City and the I-500 (Grand-Daddy of snowmobile races) at Sault Ste. Marie attract thousands of spectators and hundreds of race drivers from all over the country.

THE GENERAL interest in snowmobiling, however, stems from the fact that it is an activity (like ski touring) that the family, as well as the individual, can enjoy together.

It's an activity that takes you away from city slush into the crisp white beauty of winter's wonderland. Like any other sport or recreation, snowmobiling requires knowledge of the proper operation of the machine, good judgement, good manners and good safety habits.

The activities created by Michigan's annual "snow job", don't stop there. Ice-fishing, for example, presents an exciting challenge to the ardent angler and a tasty reward of perch, bluegill, walleye or trout.

This sport inspired "Tip-Up Town U.S.A." held annually at Houghton Lake in Roscommon County. It's a Jamboree of ice fishing, snowmobiling, special attractions and just plain fun for all comers, all ages.

TIP-UP TOWNS, so-called, spring up throughout the season on most Michigan lakes. The name comes from tip-up gear (devices equipped with reels and flags used mostly for larger fish) and ice shanties that protect the fisherman from the frigid elements.

Shanties can be small enough for one or large enough to cozy small groups, simple or elaborately equipped and may be moved on the ice to where the fish are biting. Shanties are available for rent and usually include ice-fishing tackle, bait and fuel to keep you warm.

To see a team of trained sled dogs in action is a thrill all its own. The clack of sled runners on packed snow, the encouraging whistle or shout of "Hi" from the driver and the excited yelp of the lead dog is like an episode straight from the pages of Jack London. Races are scheduled almost every weekend.

Holiday shoppers can eye antiques

Holiday shoppers with an eye for lasting value will mingle with antique collectors, decorators, and history buffs at the "Detroit Antique Show-Sale," Nov. 28 through Dec. 2 at the Light Guard Armory, 4400 East Eight Mile Rd.

The show, whose theme reminds visitors to "give an antique, the gift that grows in value," offers a varied selection of antiques and collector's items from all over the world. Leading antiques dealers from 67 cities in 15 states will fill two floors of the armory with their exhibits.

Feature attractions include a clockman, whose specialty is the repair and restoration of antique clocks; a diamond remounting specialist who will reset customers' stones in mountings of their choice; a swapboard permits show visitors to post small cards describing antiques they wish to trade, sell or buy and an appraiser who will identify antiques brought in by show visitors.

SILVER BEAVER AWARD — Scouting's highest award, the Silver Beaver, was presented to Denver Profit of 6817 Ball St., Romulus, in recognition of his "outstanding" service to the Boy Scout movement.

Presenting the award is William J. Bird of Birmingham, a member of the executive board of the Huron District, Boy Scouts of America. Looking on proudly is Mrs. Profit.

Highest scouting honor awarded to Romulus man

Scouting highest award - the Silver Beaver - has been presented to Denver Profit of 6817 Ball St., Romulus, by the Huron District Boy Scouts of America at the recent district's annual dinner.

The dinner presided over by Raymond O'Neil of Belleville and chairman of the Huron District, was held at St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Belleville.

In addition to the presentation of the award, two scouts were presented with the award of merit for "outstanding service" to boyhood. They were: Raymond Memering of 31 Clarence St., Belleville; and Gayle Glazier of 9301 Lisa St., Romulus.

Profit has a long tenure as scoutmaster and outstanding service as a volunteer in other capacities, O'Neil said.

Also at the annual dinner, officers for the 1974 year were elected and installed by an executive board member, William J. Bird of Birmingham. The new officers are:

Chairman - Raymond O'Neil of 100 Clarence St., Belleville; vice-chairmen - Richard Skibins of Taylor, and Horace Street of 34555 Beverly St., Romulus; and district commissioner - Gaylord (Dutch) Bauer of 10226 Clayton, Belleville.

The Huron District embraces the communities of Belleville, Huron, Sumpter and Van Buren townships and the City of Romulus.

213 haircuts done

Guy A. Mudd of Kirkwood, Mo., performed 213 haircuts in 72 hours in December 1969.

Your car should be equipped with emergency precautions

Getting ready for winter driving involves much more than a cold weather change of oil and a tune-up, according to Romulus' Chief of Police, Jacob J. Koch.

To illustrate his point, the chief listed winter emergency items that should be carried in the trunk of every car. These include:

—FIRST AID KIT—One of the commercially available auto first aid kits will prove useful in treating minor cuts and bruises of any origin.

—FLARES (OR REFLECTORS) At least four long-burning, 20-minute flares should be carried. If you should break down or be involved in an accident, mark both front and rear of your car with flares, or at least, reflectors. Flares should not be used when spilled gasoline or oil is present.

—TIRE CHAINS—Both the National Safety Council and the International Association of Chiefs of Police recommend carrying reinforced tire chains for use in severe weather. Tire chains provide from four to seven times the traction of conventional tires in heavy snow and glare ice.

—BATTERY CABLES—An essential item in case your battery should fail or you inadvertently leave your lights on. Cables should be of heavy gauge. They should be long enough to connect to your battery and reach at least four feet beyond the outside edge of your fender.

—OTHER ITEMS—Carry a flashlight or battery lantern

(with fresh batteries), a pair of gloves and a small rug or piece of coarse matting in case you have to change a tire or do other work on your car - day or night.

Group works on ed project

The November meeting of Alpha Delta Kappa was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Kettler of 21 Potter Dr., Belleville with Mrs. Larry Boelter of Belleville as co-hostess.

After the regular business session, the group worked on its project. Each member is to contribute an educational game or program for students in the Upper Peninsula.

Postmasters offer hints for mailing

In an effort to help holiday shoppers with their "mailing worries" Postmaster R. J. O'Neil of Belleville and Postmaster William Laginess of Romulus offer the following tips.

If a single item is being mailed, it should be cushioned with shredded paper, compressed tissue paper, cloth, or expanded plastic foam.

If two or more items are mailed in the same carton or box, cushioning material should protect all items from contact with each other, and each item should have its own individual wrapper.

CARDBOARD containers, including large soap, cereal boxes, etc., larger than the gift being mailed should be cut down to about the size of the gift to minimize shaking and breaking in transit.

Fragile articles must be cushioned individually and all four sides of the container should be padded with cushioning material.

Tape used to seal containers should be durable and should cover or secure firmly all flaps.

Paper for the outer wrapping should be at least equal in quality and strength to the kraft stock used for grocery bags. Incidentally, such bags, in good condition, provide excellent wrapping when trimmed to the proper size to fit the package snugly, the postmasters said.

WRAPPED packages also should be secured with strong twine. Twine should be knotted at several intersecting points to keep it from loosening.

All packages that contain delicate articles should be marked fragile.

Each package should contain the name and address of the person to whom it is being mailed inside the package as well as outside. An address contained inside is insurance that it will be received promptly even if accidentally opened or if the outside address should become obliterated.

Be sure to put your return address on the package.

Finally, address the package correctly and legibly. Be sure to include the ZIP Code.

SERVICE DIPLOMA — Martin J. Wilds (center) of 44009 Expressway Drive, Belleville, and a service advisor at Jefferson Chevrolet, receives his Chevrolet service college diploma on completing specialized studies at General Motors Institute in Flint. Making the presentation is Jim A. Worley, coordinator, heavy duty truck and fleet service operations, at right. Looking on is Robert Colyer, GMI sales and marketing staff, Chevrolet Service College. The school brings together retail service personnel from Chevrolet dealerships and zone offices across the country for advanced work in all phases of dealer service. The courses are conducted by faculty members of General Motors Institute in cooperation with Chevrolet.

A road rally with proceeds to be used toward the operation of the Belleville area's crisis center. The Number, will be held Dec. 2.

Registration for the road rally (open to all area licensed drivers) will be at 11:30 a.m. with the first vehicle off at 1 construction on three industrial buildings.

In all, the city issued 59 building permits, including 28 for residential construction or residential alterations and 31 for commercial construction or commercial alterations.

p.m. The road rally will start at Belleville High School.

Registration fee is $4 per car. There will be no limit to the number of passengers.

The route of the road rally will take cars approximately 70 miles through parts of Washtenaw and Wayne counties.

Drivers will receive at each of the seven check points along the route an envelope containing a playing card. At the end of the road rally, the driver with the best poker hand made up of the seven cards will win a trophy.

The crisis-counseling center, located in the central business district of Belleville, is designed to provide telephone counseling and problem assistance for drug-related problems, family conflicts, problem pregnancies and emotional crisis.

The crisis center number is 699-2039. Pre-registration for the road rally can be made by calling 699-7968.

At Kidney Foundation banquet

Two area couples are honored

Two area couples were the honored guests at a banquet where a $25,000 check from the United Steel Workers of America was presented to the Kidney Foundation of Michigan.

The area couples are Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson of Romulus and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Grimm of New Boston. Both men have been aided by the kidney loan closet which partially is supported by funds from a golf tournament, sponsored by the steel workers.

JOHNSON, father of four, had a kidney transplant in 1967. In good health since that time, he works full-time at Great Lakes Steel.

Asked for his reaction to this annual fund raising, Johnson said: "It's one of the greatest things that could happen to members of District 29. They didn't have it when I had my transplant. It's a wonderful thing to help people now, not later. I help the fund, too, all I can."

Grimm, who has two children, is farming 17 acres belonging to his father. He is on leave from McLouth Steel. The kidney loan closet provided him with a kidney machine which he uses for three hours, three times a week. But he's able to lead a relatively normal life, even to spending a couple of days up north bird hunting. Mrs. Grimm expressed her feelings about the help received.

"WE'RE FORTUNATE that we got a kidney machine," she said. "Not everyone is so fortunate."

This year's donations from the steel workers will help buy a kidney preservation machine. This perfusion device keeps donor kidneys alive and functioning until transplant surgery can be scheduled for a victim of kidney failure.

After the purchase of the perfusion machine, the remainder of the steelworkers' gift will be used for more kidney machines.

In 1970 when the first tournament was held, $7,000 was raised. The attention of the union had been focused on kidney disease after three members developed kidney failure and faced possible death and mountainous costs.

SINCE 1970, the steel workers have contributed the total of $55,000, funds raised through an annual golf outing, the Charles G. Younglove Golf Tournament.

Held in June in Dearborn this year, Michigan's largest golf tournament honors District 29 Director Charles G. Younglove of Trenton. Younglove first conceived the idea of raising funds for the Kidney Foundation.

WITH THANKS—Formerly a patient on a kidney machine himself, John Johnson of Romulus (right) was on hand recently to thank Charles G. Younglove and his fellow union members for their contribution to help purchase kidney machines.

Vaccine for flu available for $1

A limited supply of flu vaccine is available at the Wayne County Health Department for persons 55 years of age or older.

Throughout the United States, pharmaceutical companies have been unable to meet the demand created for the vaccine and will not be able to provide sufficient vaccine for the coming winter months.

The limited supply of flu vaccine available at the health department's immunization clinic includes both the Massachusetts-England and the Hong Kong strain.

In order to be fully immunized—health officials require that both vaccines be administered within two week intervals.

Those individuals interested in receiving flu inoculations are urged to call 721-0200 or 274-2800, ext. 6867 to make sure a supply of the vaccine still is available. There is a charge of $1 for each inoculation.

Rep. Mahalak explains major bills for veterans

The House of Representatives Committee on Military and Veterans Affairs has taken action on a number of major bills so far this year, including legislation to provide for bonuses, educational grants and special loans for Vietnam veterans, according to state Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus).

Reported out by the committee with favorable recommendations have been bills to offer tuition grants and loans, create a military pay fund and provide bonuses for Vietnam veterans from Michigan. The proposals, all the subjects of public hearings, are in the House Committee on Appropriations.

The bonus would be $600 for those who served in combat areas and $20 per month of service, to a maximum of $480, for non-combat veterans, Mahalak said. The education grant would be as much as $500 a year for two years. The same bill would allow as much as $10,000 in state guaranteed loans for the purchase of a home or business.

THE MILITARY pay fund would provide money for the bonuses. It and the bonus issue would have to be approved by the voters, Mahalak added. Other veterans bills reported out by the committee would:

- require that a veteran be a resident of Michigan at the time of his death to qualify for the $300 county burial benefit;
- permit a handicapped veteran to obtain vehicle license plates with the imprint "VET" on it for the purpose of parking privileges accorded other handicapped persons;
- authorize two members of a county soldiers' and sailors' relief commission to authorize disbursement of funds (present law limits the disbursement orders to the chairman and secretary of the commission);
- qualify a Vietnam veteran to serve on county departments of veterans' affairs.

One bill reported out by the committee already had been passed by the legislature and signed into law, Mahalak said.

Goodfellows set its sale of newspaper

The annual Goodfellows newspaper sale in Romulus will be held on Dec. 8, according to John Van Stipdonk, president of the Romulus Goodfellows Association.

Members of the Romulus Goodfellows Association will sell newspapers on main streets and intersections in the city to raise funds for charity.

Donations, will aid the Goodfellows goal of bringing a "Merry Christmas" to the community's needy children and families.

Traffic accident toll down

Traffic accidents in Michigan in October claimed 192 lives, which was 27 or 12 per cent fewer than 219 in the same month last year, according to the state police.

The toll also was 34 less than the October average of 226 in the five years 1968-72. High October toll was 248 in 1968 while the low was 97 in wartime 1944.

October was the sixth month this year to show a reduction in deaths compared with corresponding months in 1972. Four months have shown increases.

The October deaths brought the accumulated toll for 10 months in the state to 1,894, which was 20 fewer than 1,914 in the same period last year.

Delayed death reports will increase somewhat the totals for October and the accumulated period.

New troop is formed for boys

A new Boy Scout Troop No. 924 recently was formed by residents living at the Belle Villa Mobile Home Estates, 955 Sumpter Rd., Belleville. Scoutmaster George Kennedy said that approximately 20 Cub Scouts will hold a pack meeting once a month at the Elwell Elementary School with weekly den meetings in the boy's homes.

Eleven Webelos and Boy Scouts will meet on Tuesday evenings. All boys from eight to 18 interested in scouting are welcome to join.

For information, contact George Kennedy at 699-2624, or Gary Snider at 699-7161.

Chamber planning workshop

The Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce is planning for a "bigger and better" Christmas celebration in the community this year, according to its president, John Barber.

He said the chamber has secured a site for "Santa's Workshop" on Main Street in the central business district and the chamber is planning a parade for the annual visit of Santa to Belleville.

Barber also issued a plea to chamber membership to enter a float in the Christmas parade.

Persons or organizations wishing to enter a float in the parade are asked to contact Barber at 697-8025, or the chamber office at 697-7151.

Goodfellows set its sale of newspaper

The Belleville-Van Buren Goodfellows Association's annual newspaper sale will be held on Dec. 7 and 8, according to Jerry Maton, Goodfellow president.

Community leaders, government officials as well as firemen and police officers will sell newspapers to raise funds in the Goodfellows' annual campaign to make their slogan of "No Child without a Merry Christmas" a reality.

Romulus girl performed in production

A Romulus girl is appearing in a student production of "Rip Van Winkle" at Madonna College in Livonia on Nov. 15 and 17. She is Carla Hay.

The play is a project of the children's literature and drama class and is being staged especially for school children in the area.

Miss Hay, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Hay of 14170 Huron River Dr., is a freshman at Madonna.

She is playing the role of a dwarf. Miss Hay also is an assistant on the publicity committee. She attended Romulus High School.

"KIWANIAN OF THE YEAR"—David L. Baronian, supervisor of food services for the Van Buren Public School District displays his "Kiwianian of the Year" award he recently received from the Kiwanis Club of Dearborn Heights. Baronian, who lives in Dearborn Heights, has been a member of the club since 1969. The presentation was in recognition of his "outstanding service" to the club.

Youth to exhibit livestock at show

The 44th "Junior Livestock Show" will be held in Detroit Dec. 3 and 4, at the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

More than 100 Michigan farm youth from throughout the state will show their market lambs, hogs and steers in the annual competition.

Admission to the show is free.

"We particularly urge mothers and fathers in the area to attend this show with their children and get better acquainted with our farm youth," the show's director said.

All judging will be completed on Dec. 3. Lambs will be judged starting at 8 a.m.; hogs at 10 a.m.; and steers at 1 p.m.

Showmanship contest in each category will be held beginning at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday and an over-all showmanship sweepstakes contest is scheduled.

The show will be climaxed at 1 p.m. Dec. 4 with the auctioning of the winning livestock.

The show is co-sponsored by the Junior Livestock Society and the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

There is a wide variance between the first Thanksgiving of our forefathers and the holiday spirit of today's festival. The widened gap in meaning, custom and purpose is dramatized in this quote...Read it!

"We have been the recipients of the choicest bounties of heaven; we have been preserved these many years in peace and prosperity; we have grown in numbers, wealth and power as no other nation has ever grown. But we have forgotten God. We have forgotten the gracious hand which preserved us in peace and multiplied and enriched and strengthened us, and we have imagined, in the deceitfulness of our hearts, that all these blessings were produced by some superior wisdom and virtue of our own. Intoxicated with unbroken success, we have become too self-sufficient to feel the necessity of redeeming peace, too proud to pray to the God that made us."

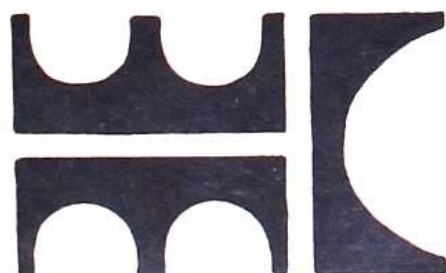

From Abraham Lincoln's Thanksgiving Proclamation, 1863. His severe words sound as a warning, more meaningful today than a century ago.

A time to pause and reflect

JFK's dream of a better life for man still lives

By MITCH KEHETIAN
Enterprise-Roman Editor

While Americans give thanks to the Almighty tomorrow, Thanksgiving Day this year also marks the 10th anniversary of that dark day that took the life of President John F. Kennedy.

And if I were to single out two of the late President's greatest stands for freedom—I would have to refer to the Soviet-Cuban missile crisis, and Kennedy's epic "where do we stand later" address about the Berlin Wall.

BUT EVEN IN Kennedy's short life span, West Berliners were given a renewed hope that freedom will prevail—despite the dastardly Berlin Wall.

It was on June 26, 1963 when Kennedy lashed out at the threatened Soviet air blockade of encircled West Berlin. He said in part: "...if we do not stand here, where will we stand later."

Five months later an assassin's bullets silenced Kennedy...but to this day, and again on each August 13—the day Kennedy went to the Berlin Wall—freedom-loving West Berliners remember the American President who came to their city to attack the Wall of Shame.

In his inaugural address, Kennedy said: "Let both sides, for the first time, formulate serious and precise proposals for the inspection and control of arms."

AND HE STRESSED to a waiting world: "Let us invoke the wonders of science instead of its terrors. Together let us explore the stars, conquer the deserts, eradicate disease, and tap the ocean depths."

John Kennedy's dream did not die with the assassin's bullets that stilled the heart-beat of the man revered by citizens of the world.

That dream materialized last June when President Nixon and Soviet Party Boss Leonid Brezhnev came to agree on nine U.S. - Soviet pacts...and each pact echoed the sentiments expressed in Kennedy's inaugural address.

AND LOOKING back at that stirring address, Kennedy reiterated: "All this will not be finished in the first 100 days. Nor will it be finished in the first 1,000 days, nor in the life of this administration, nor even perhaps in our lifetime on this planet. But let us begin..."

During the Cuban missile crisis, Kennedy again displayed the might of freedom when he warned the Soviets to get their missiles out of Cuba—or face the threat of having their Cuba-bound ships boarded by Americans.

And with that threat, Nikita Khrushchev ordered the dismantling of all Soviet missile sites—and the fear of a worldwide confrontation ended in a victory for the west...and John Kennedy.

WITH THE above flashbacks in mind, it is fitting that President Nixon's annual Thanksgiving Day proclamation also asks all Americans to "pause and reflect on President Kennedy's contributions to the life of this nation we love so dearly."

Yet, while we recall and rededicate ourselves to the goals set forth by John Kennedy...mystery continues to cloak the fatal shooting of the late President.

Was Kennedy the victim of a single assassin, or was he the target of a multiple plot?

A BELLEVILLE physician with offices in Romulus last July was allowed to study x-rays and photographs made at Kennedy's autopsy...and he suggests there was more than one gunman.

Dr. E. Forrest Chapman was the third non-government physician to study the evidence since it was placed in the National Archives in Washington in 1966.

After viewing the x-rays and autopsy photographs, Dr. Chapman said he agrees with a similar conclusion reached last year by Dr. Cyril Wecht, coroner for the City of Pittsburgh.

But the Warren Commission concluded after its investigation that the bullet which struck the President in the neck was also the one which hit former Texas Gov. John Connally, who was sitting next to Kennedy when the "assassin or assassins" opened fire.

CHAPMAN AND WECHT both stress that the angle of the bullet's path through Kennedy's neck made it unlikely it could also have struck Connally.

At the same time, Chapman, a deputy Wayne County medical examiner, said a film of the shooting shows Connally reacting to his wound 11 frames—less than a second after the President reacted.

Chapman said if it had been the same bullet both Kennedy and Connally would have reacted simultaneously.

And we may never know.

The alleged assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald is dead; and his killer, Jack Ruby is dead.

WHATEVER THE reasons and circumstances, one thing is certain...the dreams and aspirations of John F. Kennedy did not die on Nov. 22, 1963.

Let us work to perpetuate those dreams and aspirations—and if we do...Kennedy's death will not have been in vain.

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP BOARD MINUTES

Nov. 13, 1973

The Meeting opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag at 8:00 P.M. Sup. Gollwitzer called the Meeting to order. Members present: Sup. Gollwitzer, Clerk Cullin, Treas. Hedman, Trustees: Blend, Domen, Kuchta, Kureth, Eng. Levine. Absent: Att. Rice. Att. Rice arrived at 8:05 P.M.

Motion Hedman, support Kuchta, to accept the minutes of Oct. 23, 1973 as presented. Carried unanimously.

A letter from Wm. Laycock, Reg. Mgr. of Dept. of Natural Resources, regarding the restocking of the lake was discussed.

Clerk Cullin read a letter from State Rep. Gary Owen stating he is willing assist in any manner we suggest to solve the problem which will be created if the Wayne County Commission stops financing the Sheriff's Road Patrol service to Van Buren Twp.

Resolution from Brownstown Twp. regarding Enterprise Roman caption about "Free" Service from Sheriff's Road Patrol was discussed.

Clerk Cullin read a "Special Award" presented to Van Buren Township for their support from Belleville Cougars Jr. Football Team.

Motion Kuchta, support Blend, to note and file Resolution from City of Romulus regarding the elimination of State Sales Tax on food and clothing 73-740; and Resolution 73-731 from City of Romulus regarding changes in the State Lottery to provide a new structure which would distribute winnings to a greater number of participants. Carried unanimously.

Motion Kureth, support Kuchta, to direct Clerk Cullin to send a letter of Thanks to The Ypsilanti Township Board for the invitation to their open House Nov. 18, 1973. Carried unanimously.

Motion Kuchta, support Hedman, to indicate to Sumpter Twp. that tentatively we are approving the Joint Water Agreement concerning water mains on Bemis Road. Carried unanimously.

Motion Kureth, support Hedman, to adopt the resolution to form the Airport Commission and establish a $10,000.00 fund for operation. Carried unanimously.

Sup. Gollwitzer gave a short report on the proposed Sewer line extension to the Southern part of the Township.

Motion Kuchta, support Blend, to accept the Resolution, as presented, regarding the excessive number of commercial vehicles in the streets of Van Buren Estates Subdivision, creating a traffic safety hazard and an obstacle to adequate fire protection. Carried unanimously.

Motion Hedman, support Kureth, to adopt Ordinance no. 1969-1 to Uniform Traffic Code as presented. Carried unanimously.

"Electricity to Dam" bid was tabled until Nov. 27, 1973 Meeting.

Motion Blend, support Kureth, to adopt the Agreement to Create the Criminal Justice Institute. Trustee Domen requested the Attorney to study this agreement, so we can drop out in 30 days if we so desire. Carried unanimously.

Motion Kureth, support Hedman, to refer proposed amendment to Rec. Resolution 7-11-72 back to the Rec. Commission for further consideration. Carried.

Motion Kureth, support Hedman, to reject the request to establish a $50.00 petty cash fund for the Rec. Director, due to the fact all expenditures must be approved by the Twp. Board. Carried unanimously.

A Sales Rep. of Multigraph Addressograph made a presentation of his offset printing press program.

Motion Cullin, support Kuchta, to table Liquor License for Little Caesar enterprise until the next Board Meeting of Nov. 27, 1973. Carried unanimously.

Motion Kureth, support Cullin, to appoint Geo. Heifner to the Water & Sewer Commission to replace Phillip Eller. Carried unanimously.

Motion Blend, support Kuchta, to limit the December activity to one Township Board meeting, which will be Dec. 11, 1973. Carried unanimously.

Motion Cullin, support Domen, to approve Supervisor Gollwitzer attending the National Academy of Science in Washington for $100.00. Carried unanimously.

Motion Kuchta, support Cullin, to again write a letter to the Belleville Council and again request a representative and attach a schedule of the meetings and request an answer in writing, so that we will have a rep. from Belleville in the Park Operation committee. Carried unanimously.

Motion Blend, support Domen, to approve the request of Bldg. Insp. to attend the Bldg. Dept. Conference at the Univ. of Wisconsin Jan. 11, 1974, assuming the cost will be $75.00. Carried unanimously.

Motion Hedman, support Kuchta, to appoint Wm. Tremper to Fire Dept. No. 1. Carried.

Motion Kuchta, support Cullin, to have the Board authorize the Ins. Committee, in an expedient manner, to draw up specifications for Fire and Liability Ins. for buildings and release same for public bids. Carried unanimously.

Motion Kureth, support Kuchta, to accept the reports of Dog Warden, Bldg. Dept., Revenue Report, Fire Dept. No. 1, Police Dept. as presented. Carried.

Motion Cullin, support Domen, to allow any Board Member who wants to go to SEMCOG meeting Nov. 29, 1973 at 5:30 P.M. at the cost of $5.50. Carried.

Motion Kureth, support Hedman, to advise the Banks with temporary buildings that when their permit time is up, they will not be renewed. Carried unanimously.

Motion Hedman, support Kureth, to pay bills as presented on Vouchers Lists. Carried unanimously.

Trustee Blend withdrew previous motion, and revised his motion so that Sup. Gollwitzer may talk to Bldg. Insp., and if he feels the total cost involved is worthwhile to the Twp., he should approve his attendance at the program. Support by Kuchta. Carried unanimously.

Motion Hedman, support Kuchta, to adjourn at 9:40 P.M. Carried unanimously.

Respectfully submitted
Pat Cullin, Twp. Clerk

A "double-take" from Garden City West High headlines the 1973 All-Area Golf Team sponsored by The Daily Eagle and Associated Newspapers.

The Tigers' best two golfers, Herb Bedard and Don Mullet, join Western Wayne Invitational champion Tim Birk of Belleville and three others in the elite corps of linksmen.

The other schools represented are Garden City East, Cherry Hill and Wayne Memorial, with West's Dick Kitzman gaining Coach of the Year accolades.

THE ALL-AREA field was determined by the order of finish in October's Invitational, in which West captured the team title and Birk took medalist honors for the second straight year.

Birk retained his title on a sudden death playoff with Bedard after the two had fired identical 79s for 18 holes at Northville's Salem Hills course.

Joining the pair on the team is East's Paul Reed, Cherry Hill's Bob Jawor, West's Mullet and Wayne Memorial's Rich Sorrenson.

Reed placed third and Jawor fourth at the Invitational, while Mullet and Sorrenson deadlocked for the fifth position.

Kitzman is honored as Coach of the Year on the basis of his team's outstanding 12-2 season dual match record and the Invitational victory.

Here are capsule spotlights on each of the six All-Area golfers:

TIM BIRK — The Belleville junior has played varsity golf for Coach Sam Vicchy for two years, owning a 39 average for nine holes. As Vicchy says, "Tim is a real scrambler, he never gives up. If he makes a mistake he doesn't let it get him down. He is a very consistent golfer, always shooting right around his average."

HERB BEDARD — A junior at Garden City West, Bedard's game hovered between 39 and 40 in his second varsity season. Likely to be the Tigers' most valuable golfer next season, he is analyzed by Coach Dick Kitzman: "Herb has a nice, natural swing, but he is bothered by his putting. His drives and iron shots are outstanding, though, and he is probably be our captain next year."

PAUL REED — A senior at GC East with his third season of varsity play behind him, Reed relies on his drives to strengthen his game. "He's the best shooting golfer we have," insisted his coach, Ralph Davis. "When he's hot he can really come in there. He shoots around a 42 and is an all-around good golfer."

BOB JAWOR — The number one golfer on the Spartan squad began varsity play at Cherry Hill in only his freshman year. The junior sports a 41 league average and excels in nearly every phase of his putting game, however," said Spartan coach Bill Kelley. "He hits the ball a long way and has some fine iron shots."

DON MULLET — The senior at Garden City West captained the team with a 37 average in his third varsity season. "He's a true workhorse," lauds Kitzman. "Don is a good, steady golfer, and because it is rather small his drives aren't usually real long. But they go right down the middle in excellent fashion nonetheless. He's also a good putter, which rounds out his steady game."

All-American
prep gridders
being sought

By TOM MOORADIAN

That's what the Coach & Athlete Magazine, published in Northeast Atlanta, Georgia, is seeking in this area. Do we have any nominations for the elite crop of high school football players who recently made the headlines?

I think we have legitimate candidates.

But first, did you know that this area has produced a prep All-American griddier in the past? Can you name him?

It shouldn't be too difficult - he's Kirt Lewis, presently with Bo Schembechler's undefeated Wolverines at the University of Michigan.

Lewis, as a member of Coach Bob Draheim's contingent at Garden City West High, was named to the All-American high school team in 1971 after earning All-Area and All-State honors as a Tiger end.

FOR NEARLY A quarter of a century the Prep All-American program has had as its goal to single out and reward tomorrow's winning athletes for their performances today.

"It is the selection committee's belief that recognition of local accomplishments on a national level through this program best serves the goals of amateur athletics," writes Dwight Keith, chairman. "Please nominate those seniors who are top-ranked in athletic ability, career performance, sportsmanship and personal development through participation on their team."

Names that quickly flash across my mind as qualified candidates for All-American honors are Al Slamer, Wayne Memorial's dynamic tackle; Keith Arnold, Inkster High's rugged lineman, Randy Epley and Livonia Franklin's exciting linebacker.

There are others, I'm sure.

MEANWHILE, the last "official act" of the 1973 high school football season - the All-Area photo session - came off without a hitch yesterday.

All candidates showed up, and I have to agree with the coaches "that the players (preps that is) are getting bigger and bigger each year."

When some of those guys stepped into our office they looked as if they were college and pro gridders. It's really a pleasure to meet them.

And I know you'll all enjoy reading about them

NOW FOR BASKETBALL. That's what usually follows football, right? O.K. And swimming. Wrestling. And Hockey, too.

But, this is a cage note. It appears as if Garden City East is getting the breaks early in the basketball season. Breaks that Coach Billy Joe Young and assistant coach Mike Riley could do without.

First it was Billy Joe. The Panthers' head coach was hospitalized recently for an appendectomy. Now it's his assistant, Riley, who is "bone mending."

Riley was hammering something, and would you believe the hammer slipped and whacked him across the wrist, breaking it?

Ouch.

If East's luck doesn't change, oh well. It just has to.

Should a high school award suspended athletes letters? That controversy is stirring up some hard feelings apparently at John Glenn High these days.

Some 13 football players were canned from the team about two weeks ago after failing to comply to a curfew. And the parents, who at first accepted the school administration's decision, now feel that the punishment surpasses the crime.

The parents were to meet with Principal Frank Higgins yesterday, according to the group's spokesman who asked to remain anonymous for obvious reasons.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS and coaches feel that the athletes forfeited their rights to a letter when they violated the curfew. However, parents believe that if the players put in the necessary time on the gridiron they should be awarded the letter.

One parent said: "If our boys have earned their letters by playing the required eight quarters of football up to the point of their suspension, then they should be entitled to their letter."

The controversy continues.

New head cage coaches see 'lot of work ahead'

Belleville and Romulus high schools begin new basketball eras this season as both school have new skippers at the helm of their cage ships.

Tom Niemi, a 32-year-old Northern Michigan University graduate, replaces Al Gates as Belleville High's head coach, while Jesse Meriweather was elevated to the top job at Romulus, replacing Dave Court.

Both view their prospects optimistically. And both coaches concur "that there's a lot of work ahead for them."

"We're a young ball club," said Niemi who shifted over from Livonia Franklin to Belleville to accept the new job. He was reserve coach at the Livonia high school. "The boys are working hard and if they gain the experience we need early enough, we'll be all right."

NIEMI will try to improve upon a 6-16 won-lost record the Tigers amassed during the 1972-73 campaign. It won't be easy. Belleville is in one of the tougher suburban leagues, the Suburban 8, where Gates' teams have struggled for the past three years.

"It's a very competitive league," said the new Tiger mentor, "and we are going to have to be ready for each game - there are no pushovers."

Belleville wound up seventh in the eight team league, compiling 4-10 record. Allen Park (13-1) is the defending champ.

TO HELP ease the burden somewhat for the rookie coach is a core of veteran players who lettered last year including Melvin Abraham, Charlie Brown, Walter Easley, Otty Turrentine, Robin Hook and Willie Currie.

Niemi says he presently has 15 players on the varsity roster, but that he is contemplating cutting the number to 12 before the end of the week.

Niemi likes to "free lance" on offense, running when possible, but he points out that his team will also play "control ball" if and when needed.

He also is preparing the Tigers with a variety of defenses, restoring to the one "that fits what the other team is trying to do to us."

The Tigers have eight more days to get ready before their opener. On Nov. 30 they'll meet Ypsilanti, a noted cage power in their first nonleaguers. That's on the home.

The following Tuesday (Dec. 4), Belleville will begin the play their first home game, hosting Plymouth Canton.

MERIWEATHER, 34, has already gotten his first taste of competition. The Eagles are hosting their inaugural Thanksgiving Tournament which began last night.

Romulus took on Cass Technical High School (Detroit) and Detroit Southwestern the defending Class A state champ, met East Catholic.

The two winners will meet tonight in the finals while the losers play in a consolation game starting at 7 p.m.

Romulus has a flock of blue chip players returning from last year's team that posted a 20-3 won-lost record. Heading the parade is 6-foot-4 senior forward John Long who was named to the All-Area and All-State teams.

Long is joined by James Hall, a 6-foot-6 senior forward, who also made the All-Area

Kitzman 'monopolizes' golf coaching honors

A veteran prep golf coach who is no stranger to the ranks of the coaching elite wears the 1973 laurels for The Daily Eagle and Associated Newspapers' golf Coach of the Year.

Dick Kitzman, 49, golf mentor at Garden City West High since the school opened in 1965, guided his Tigers not only to a sensational 12-2 dual match record throughout the season, but also directed them to the championship of the annual Western Wayne Invitational Golf Tournament at Northville's Salem Hills Golf Course in October.

KITZMAN'S one regret, however, is that his team was edged out for the Tri-River League championship by a this year, but we lost one match by just two strokes more than champs I think." The band director at West which cost us the title," he said. "But barely missing championships is nothing new to us. We've been also-rans when he's not on the links. Kitzman is married with three children. Two sons are married and a daughter is a junior at Indiana University. Kitzman has been a band director for 22 years. He attended the universities of Wisconsin and Iowa, the latter for his Masters.

And though he always seems to attract the coaching honors, Kitzman is quick to point out that it is the golfers, and not himself, who make the difference.

"We've had some great golfers at West, and I'm sure that this year's group was one of the best. We got real good scoring by four or five boys all the time this season instead of just one or two steady players. They were shooting between 37 and 40 all the time which is hard to beat," he said.

Next Week: All-Area football

Two down and one to go - that's the All-Area score thus far for the fall season.

With the cross country and golf elite out of the way, the final All-Area team - football - is next in line.

And The Associated Newspapers' will unveil its 1973 grid machine next week. The team, split into defensive and offensive units, feature the top players in the area.

Players from Belleville, Romulus, New Boston Huron, Wayne, Memorial, Westland, John Glenn, Livonia Churchill, Franklin, Garden City East and West, Inkster, Robichaud and Cherry Hill have been drafted for the star-studded lineup.

So don't miss next week's football special. It's our best.

Trio out

Three Michigan State first-string gridders were sidelined for the year by injuries to their left knees in the Wisconsin game. Surgery followed for the trio-quarterback Charlie Baggett, center Charlie Ane and offensive tackle Phil Smolinski.

Second - guessing

By Dale Gowing

To say there was an air of cautiousness about University of Michigan football coach Bo Schembechler Monday would be the understatement of the year.

His weekly press luncheon was most assuredly the dulllest social affair of the year in Ann Arbor, and the two dozen or so writers and broadcasters on hand walked away mostly still hungry for what they came for—a story.

Now there was a reason for the dull proceedings, of course.

THIS IS—AND who can forget it—the week before the titanic Michigan-Ohio State showdown, the biggest game in the nation Saturday. All eyes, including a national television audience, will be riveted on Michigan Stadium where 105,000 people, three thousand more than the stadium can possibly hold, will go temporarily insane for 60 football minutes while the fourth-ranked Wolverines and top-ranked Buckeyes decide the Big Ten championship and Rose Bowl representative.

So to say that this is a big week in Ann Arbor or Columbus, O., then, would be stating another gross misrepresentation. And Schembechler knows it.

Only he does a good job—as does Woody Hayes—in playing down the fact. Experience has led Bo to adopt the tactic he is now using, that of being careful not to say anything publicly that might stir the ire or ruffle the feathers of the enemy, and get the Bucks any higher than Woody has them already.

As an example of Bo's cunning and verbal tip-toeing through questions flung his way yesterday by the copyhungry mediamen, he continually—and oh so smoothly—ducked around inquiries as to how good is Ohio State really?

AND WHEN THE attacking press then asked how good is Michigan really, Smooth Bo answered both: "We'll find out Saturday."

And what would Ohio State's ultimate key to success be? they asked. "Oh, I'd say their defense...and offense and kicking and punt returns and balance and coaching and..." he replied.

But what about OSU's schedule? Have they played anybody? "If they haven't played anybody," Bo said, "then we haven't either."

To be certain, Bo is not about to say anything derogatory about OSU that would serve as kindling for the fire down in Columbus this week.

He is optimistic about the chances for the return of tailback Gil Chapman, who sat out last week's Purdue game with an injury, and that notion alone could provide the confidence the Wolverines need to avenge last year's 14-11 loss to the Bucks.

THE WOLVERINES will not get the day off from practice Thursday for Thanksgiving, and are working hard to enter the game at 12:50 p.m. Saturday with a high, but light attitude. "We're not going into the game with the attitude that it is a grim affair," explained Bo. "When it's grim, you just want to play the game and get out."

"This should not be a grim thing. It's a big rivalry and a great game and should certainly not be a grim day for either team at the outset."

The game will be the first since 1971 that both teams entered with undefeated 10-0 records, and if ever the two have been so equally compared, it's this year. Bo, incidentally, advised that if the incident arises Saturday where Michigan can win or tie with either a field goal or a touchdown, which ultimately cost the Wolverines last year's game, he would not hesitate to go for six.

"We still won't go for the field goal," he argued. "I've told you guys time and time again that I wouldn't have done it any different last time. After all, we were on the one yard line. A field goal?"

AS USUAL, PRACTICE this week at Michigan is closed to the press and the players are under strict orders not to talk to reporters.

So about the only thing left where they can get a heart-felt answer from Schembechler concerns the ticket situation for the sell-out contest. The valuable ducats are scarce these days and even the Michigan sports information director, Will Perry, and his assistant have sacrificed their seats in the press box to the writers. And knowing full well what everybody must be thinking about his pull to obtain tickets, Bo set the record straight in a hurry.

"No gentlemen," said Smooth Bo, standing up to depart. "I have no tickets either. Honest."

Another parent declared that: "If I would have known about the imposed curfew, I would have made sure to it that my son would have abided by it. But, the curfew was a hit-and-miss thing."

My views?

Sorry, mum, I got to disagree. An athlete represents a school, a community, his parents and himself once he wears a uniform. And on the gridiron, (basketball court, diamond, or where have you) he is asked to abide by the rules on and off the field.

If he fails to do so, then the athlete forfeits the right of any award that may come his way.

TRUE, A LETTER may not mean much to someone who has never competed in athletics, but, from personal experience I know the value that youngsters place on the award.

It is an honor and a privilege to wear one. But, the letter also represents the school. When the athlete disgraces the school, he should not be allowed to wear an emblem that personifies the good that others try to perpetuate.

What do you think, folks?

DISCUSSING THE gasoline situation with a couple of fans last night the question popped up what would happen to high school sports if rationing becomes a reality?

team last year.

Bryon Garner (6-5), up from the reserves, Michael Morrison (5-8) guard and Rickey Hubbert, a 5-foot-10 guard round out the probable starting lineup.

"The first couple of games will tell a lot," said Merriweather. "on paper we look good, but, believe me Hubbert can make or break us. If he can run the team, then we will be tough."

WILL THE new Romulus pilot deviate from anything that the Eagles were accustomed to during the Court era.

Merriweather. "we're going to press all over the court and we will run, run, and run. Shoot and run and play defense like we never did before."

An All-Stater as a prep in Michigan City, Indiana, Jesse was a three sports star at Elston High School. He lettered in football, track and basketball.

True, there are more serious problems involved with the shortage of fuel, such as heating homes, but one can't help think with the mileage most school buses and sports fans put on their odometers to follow their favorite teams, what would happen if gas was not available.

No way would high school sports, or college and professional sports for that matter, be the same as we know it today.

As one fan pointed out, "I can see leagues realigned so that high schools would be forced to play teams closer in their area in order to save fuel."

"There are going to be a lot of changes if this fuel shortage gets serious and sports will be equally effected in the over-all pursuit to conserve energy."

Mooradian is top gridder forecaster

championship of the Eagle's Prep Football Predictions.

Mooradian, who was in third place behind Sports Writer Dale Gowing and Editor Mitch Kehetian before the final weekend, overcame the leaders with a sensational predicting spree that saw him miss on just one game - Woodhaven at New Boston Huron. Mooradian had selected Huron but Woodhaven won.

MEANWHILE, Gowing was 7-5 in the final weekend and Kehetian 9-3, as the two deadlocked for second place with a season record of 82 wins and 42 losses (.661 pct.)—just one game behind the champ, who sported an 83-41 record (.669 pct.).

Enterprise and Roman Advertising Repand defending champion Bert Osterberg clinched fourth place at 76-48 (.612 pct.) with a 5-7 weekend.

The season consensus of the eight selectors' picks totaled 77 correct guesses and 47 misses, for an accuracy percentage of .629.

David Smith, former Wayne Memorial track and cross country star, that 19-year-old streak of lightning on the Henry Ford Community College cross country team, has made the national All-American first team for the second year in a row.

The honor came over the weekend at the 1973 National Junior College Cross Country championships at Tallahassee, Fla., where Smith placed sixth in individual results among approximately 400 runners from 75 colleges.

SMITH HAD a time of 19:01 in what HFCC Coach John O'Hara described as one of the most competitive national events he's ever seen.

Minimize energy loss by conserving fuel use

The fuel shortage may be minimized this winter if homeowners take seven basic steps toward conserving fuel, according to Barry Brown, Director of the Michigan Department of Labor, Brown based his statement on a report from the Construction Code Commission, a new division of the U.S. Labor Department.

Husbands and wives have argued for years about the merits of lowering the thermostat at night, and Brown has the answer.

According to tests conducted by the National Bureau of Standards on a fully furnished four-bedroom townhouse, when the thermostat was lowered 10 degrees for an eight-hour period during the night (from 75 degrees to 65 degrees), there was a saving of 12 per cent heating energy per day, based on an outdoor night temperature of 21 degrees.

Improve your HOME

"TOTAL SAVINGS will be even greater in the northern areas where more fuel is used," Brown said. "Proper weatherstripping and caulking can eliminate up to 30 per cent of the average heating bill."

Consumers could aid in the conservation of energy this coming heating season by weatherstripping and caulking around all windows and doors; installing storm windows or using insulating glass; installing overhead and individual insulation; maintaining an efficient heating plant by keeping air filters and heat transfer surfaces clean as well as providing sufficient air for combustion; closing window drapery at night, reducing air leakage to attics and crawl spaces by sealing all openings around ceiling vents; light fixtures and ductwork, and turning off utilities when not in use.

The labor director stressed the importance of turning off all electric lights, television sets, radios and other appliances when not in use and commented that "even as small an item as the repair of leaking hot water faucets can save the money."

For overhead insulation he recommends six inches over the top floor ceiling.

EVEN IF there already is up to four inches of insulation, an increase to the maximum six inches will pay for itself in eight to 12 years and will then return an annual dividend of 12 to 15 per cent on the original investment," he said.

Brown recommended closing off rooms that are not used in the winter but cautioned that if water pipes are exposed, the temperature in the sealed-off rooms should not be allowed to drop below freezing.

Windows that insulate properly conserve fuels and spending

Homes that supposedly are well-insulated but continue to lose heat are like carefully-planned budgets that are continually overspent.

In both instances, the "leakage" may be due to overlooked "expenditures."

For example, adequate wall and ceiling insulation is intended to assure home comfort and reduce heat loss, energy waste, and high heating and cooling bills.

BUT WINDOWS, which make up as much as 40 per cent of a home's outer walls, can cause up to 50 per cent of a home's heat loss.

Thus, a home with well-insulated walls and ceilings but inadequately insulated windows will continue to waste energy and money.

In fact, the better insulated walls and ceilings are, the greater the need for properly insulated windows.

HOW CAN you be sure your windows offer good insulation? A leading window manufacturer recommends these essentials:

—Double pane insulating glass or tight-fitting storm sash. Insulating glass—which is actually two panes of glass sealed at the edges to create a dry "insulating" air space between—has the advantage of convenience.

—Factory-applied weatherstripping. Drafts caused by improperly weatherstripped windows can waste a considerable amount of heating energy.

—The insulating capability of the sash. Wood is a poor conductor of heat, therefore a good insulator. The same is true for rigid vinyl. The vinyl does not have to be painted.

Builders urged to save energy in construction

Homebuilders may soon be on the firing line in a stepped-up battle to conserve energy.

Since a primary use of energy is to heat and cool homes, builders are being urged to use new construction techniques and building materials that help save it.

Recently, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development upgraded heat loss and heat gain standards for one-and two-family living units built with federal financing. Intended primarily to conserve fuel, the new standards require about one-third more insulation than previously.

According to the INBEX Building Exposition, of Chicago, effective energy conservation for builders must involve:

1. Pinpointing wasteful practices.
2. Revising or eliminating them.
3. Instituting energy-saving methods of construction.

Builders also will have to:

—Design homes with an eye to energy-saving. This could range from selecting roof and siding colors for their heat-reflection qualities, to site-positioning a home for the most or least sun exposure.

—Use building materials with good insulating capabilities.

—Build in factors that reduce energy consumption. For example: insulating crawl spaces to minimize heat loss; ventilating attics with fans to prevent heat build-up.

Here's the answer

By ANDY LANG

Q. — My house needs insulation in two of the outside walls. I know that I can have it done by a professional company, which blows it behind the walls. Is it possible to do it myself to save the labor costs?

A. — Yes, it's possible, but it's not an easy job. Since the insulation must get behind both the wall and the sheathing, you have to remove the exterior wood, whatever it is, then bore large holes in the sheathing and drop in the loose-fill insulation.

It's hard work and requires a measure of skill to take off and replace the siding. If your exterior walls are brick or stucco, forget it.

finishing nails or, for a neat job, with adhesive.

But perhaps the best way is to cover the edges with what is called tape edging and is sold in rolls at most lumber yards and building supply houses.

Some hardware stores also carry it. This edging comes in different kinds of wood so that you can achieve either a match or a contrast with the plywood. It has a pressure-sensitive adhesive backing.

Some types require the application of heat for an extra strong bond. Ask your dealer about the kind you select. Since the edging is made of real wood, the finished job will have a professional appearance.

Q. — A piece has broken off one of the asphalt shingles on our roof. I don't know how it happened, since the roof otherwise is in good condition. Is it necessary to replace the entire shingle or can I patch it?

A. — You can patch it. Use asphalt roofing cement and spread it into the opening. Better get to it right away or you'll have a leak soon.

Q. — I am making a bookcase out of plywood, but I'm not crazy about the looks of the edges. What's the best way to cover them?

A. — You can use any of various types of moulding, including what is known as half round. These can be attached to the edges with

Once people who wanted a luxurious haven of rest often had to pay considerable sums for genuine solid hardwood bedroom furniture. Yet, no matter how expensive, they had to be very careful to avoid damaging the finish. They had to worry, too, about exposure to the sun and getting just the right furniture polish. No more! Now you can own this wonderful 5-piece bedroom crafted of "miracle" materials that are in many ways BETTER than wood. These space-age vinyls and thermoplastics are stronger than wood - more resistant to dents and stains, and yet look so much like custom finished wood an expert has to make a close examination to be sure. Best of all, modern science makes this luxury-look bedroom easy for you to own, even if you have a very limited budget! For modern manufacturing methods make furniture more precisely, better fitted stronger, more beautiful - and much faster!

Come see this miracle of modern science. We will be delighted to demonstrate to you the beauty and strength of these wondrous bedroom pieces in our store.

Breathing in aerosol gases can cause death in seconds

Some aerosol products are designed to spray into the atmosphere or under the arms. Some are meant to inhale through your mouth or Deaths usually come through asphyxiation and heart arrest. The air sacs of the lungs, vital for the exchange of oxygen and carbon dioxide, can be damaged as well as the network of blood vessels that surround them.

Aerosol products are easy targets for experimentation; they are inexpensive and everywhere. There are 300 types of aerosols. Within the last three years, sales have doubled to almost two billion a year.

THE AEROSOL industry has begun a campaign to educate young people about the hazards of misuse.

According to the Aerosol Education Bureau, most deaths due to deliberate misuse happen among teenagers, when they are with their friends.

Accurate statistics are not available, but currently the largest cluster of deaths from aerosol misuse, says the bureau, is in the age group 14 and 15.

The misusers are getting younger and younger; in 1970, the largest number of deaths occurred among the ages 15 to 18.

Snowmobile class set in Romulus

Romulus Continuing Education and the city's parks and recreation department will sponsor snow safety classes this fall for young adults 11-16 years old.

The Department of Natural Resources (DNR) will conduct the clinic to be held at Romulus Senior High on Nov. 27 and 29, Dec. 4 and 6. A field driving test also will be scheduled for Dec. 8, weather permitting.

On Jan. 1, a snowmobile law goes into effect prohibiting people under 16 from publicly operating a snowmobile without adult supervision unless they have passed a snowmobile safety class.

Successful completion of the Romulus course will lead to DNR snowmobile safety certification.

Enrollment for the class can be made by calling Romulus Continuing Education at 941-1600, ext. 37. A $2 registration fee is charged on the first evening of class.

CITY OF ROMULUS NOTICE OF LETTING

Sealed proposals will be received in the Office of the City Clerk, 11111 Wayne Road, Romulus, Michigan until 5:00 p.m., November 27, 1973. Bid Proposals will be publicly opened and read at the Regular Meeting of the Romulus City Council, November 27, 1973 on the following:

1000 Tons of No. 1 Grade Road Salt

1) Proposals shall be submitted on forms furnished by the City, which may be obtained at the Office of the Clerk, 11111 Wayne Road, Romulus, Michigan and shall be enclosed in envelope endorsed: "ROAD SALT."

2) The right is reserved to reject any and all proposals and to waive technicalities. Proposal guarantee in the amount of five (5 per cent) percent of the bid will be required.

ANSWERS FROM LAST WEEK:

THE CANARY ISLANDS ARE NOT NAMED AFTER BIRDS LIVING THERE!

The islands are named after the Latin "canaria" (dog) - because of the many large dogs native to those parts. This verified by the Century Dictionary and the Encyclopedia Britannica.

NOW WE ARE DEALING! NOW

test drive a MAZDA get the thrill again

PERFORMANCE No car in its bracket can compete with the Mazda both in power and smoothness.

POLLUTION FREE Mazda is the only engine known that can meet 1975 federal emission standards without prohibitive costs or special gasolines.

ECONOMY Plus is the Mazda, which gives you over 20 miles per gallon, and largely trouble-free. It stays on the road and out of the shop!

IDEAL SECOND CAR The Mazda is compact, but roomy, easily handled and inexpensive to operate. Ideal for that second car.

24 MO. WARRANTY or 24,000 mile constant thrust of power warranty.
